The Political Tub Is Leaking

President Eisenhower's noble experiment of placing a man from organized labor in the Cabinet has ended in the word "Ouch."

Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin wasn't privately asked to resign. In fact, he was, on the basis of available evidence, asked to stay. He quit with a polite charge of a double-cross, which is not polite no matter how much it may be dressed up in softer words.

Durkin was an official of the AFL Plumbers' Union, the members of which cartoonists say always forget their tools at a charge of about $10 an hour, including materials. With him gone the political tub is leaking badly.

By all accounts he was a man of character, principle and integrity. Obviously the Republicans, screening all appointments with great care before enlisting them for the crusade in Washington, believed him to be a sound, reasonable man.

Now Durkin is out—and is not at all the victim of a squeeze play. He departed. And he explained why. He said the White House didn't keep its word.

No, But—

He carefully refrained from making a personal charge against the President. But, he emphasizes his belief the General did participate by saying he understood from the White House aides that Mr. Eisenhower "had concurred" in the proposed Taft-Hartley Law changes proposed by him and accepted by them.

These changes, which were issued by the aides, and "leaked" to the Wall Street Journal, which published them as the proposed Eisenhower plan, caused an immediate outcry. The White House withdrew them. It now is said they were but a trial balloon. Organizations quickly flooded the Congress with opposition telegrams and letters. At least one pamphlet is still being nationally circulated, titled "How to Save Taft-Hartley." The way to save it, says the pamphlet, is to round up the neighbors and have them wire the Congress. All this makes Western Union rub its hands happily, but it does not make for glee in Congress. The elections are coming up next year.

It is chiefly this fact which has the heads of great men close together at Denver, where a replacement must be identified and persuaded. And the choice will not be easy. But it will be one which will have quite an effect on the make-up of the next Congress.

One can be quite sure the Democrats, on the way to dinner at Chicago, are grinning expansively. When a political party has been out of power for 20 years the facts of life are often painful, especially when one of them comes in the form of a plumber's wrench thrown into the political machinery.

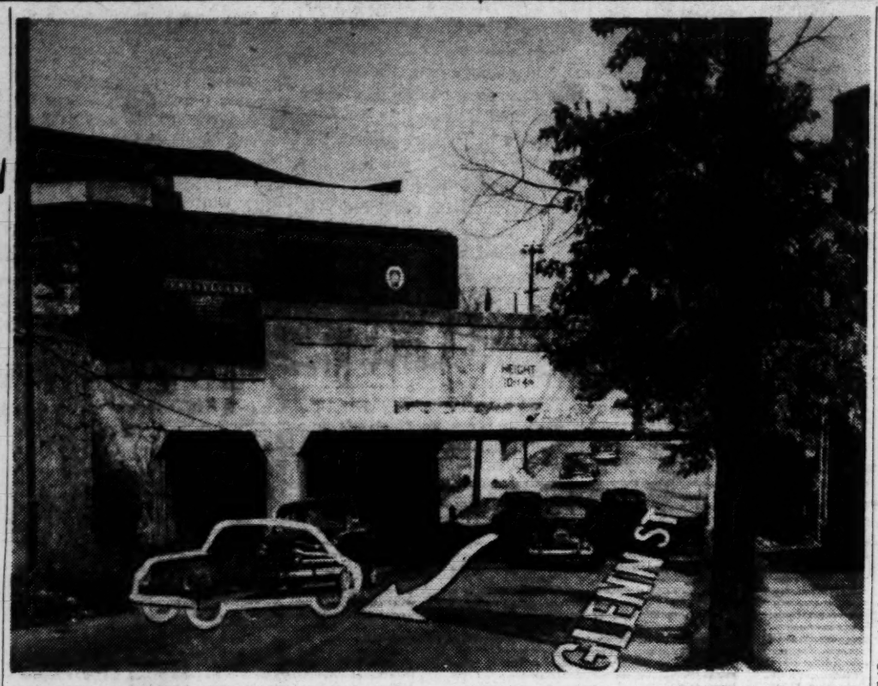

Problem

There are two decisions to be made, although both are wrapped in the same blanket.

A Secretary of Labor theoretically serves business and labor . . . and also is supposed to keep the rights and welfare of the white collar worker in mind—although almost no one ever does. But, some labor leaders say this is increasingly an industrial age. Therefore, they argue the Secretary of Commerce should look after business and the Secretary of Labor concern himself with industrial problems of labor. That argument is full of holes. It simply isn't sound. One trouble with us now is too many divisions, and too many pressure groups seeking special privileges.

But, admittedly, it is difficult to find a man who isn't, or who hasn't been in the past, affiliated either with business, finance or labor. It isn't possible to find many hermits these days. And a fellow who hasn't participated in business or industry would hardly be acceptable. But, a Wall Street man would further alienate labor. And a man from union ranks would further distress the right-wing Republicans and would cause the organizations devoted to saying the Taft-Hartley law to make delivery boys humpbacked from toting messages to congressional desks.

In a way, this replacement is tougher than finding a Chief Justice—as they now know in Denver.

Bandits in Car Block Pay Truck, Escape With $700 in West End

By KEELER McCARTNEY

Two youthful bandits in an automobile Friday held up a contracting company payroll truck and robbed the messenger of $700 in a daring maneuver in the West End business section, police said.

In their hurry to escape, however, the two overlooked approximately $1,000 which the messenger, A. E. Leonard, 26, of 1215 Woods Ave., N. W., had locked in the glove compartment of his truck. The holdup occurred about 2 p. m.

At 10:30 p. m., two armed men fitting the description of the payroll robbers forced Johnny Kirkley, a Yellow Cab Co. driver, out of their cab at West View Dr. and Lawton St., S. W., police reported. The pair took Kirkley's wallet, which contained a small amount of money, and drove away in the cab, they said.

Detectives N. W. Flanagan and O. L. Adams said the cab was found a short time later in the 1200 block of Oak St., S. W.

Leonard, the payroll truck driver, an employee of the Huffman Wolfe Co., 408 Sawtell Ave., S. E., told Detective Sgt. G. H. Christian Jr. that a 1952 model two-tone Ford sedan without a license plate whipped around his truck at the Glenn Street underpass. An occupant of the car leaned out and shouted:

"Hey! You're about to lose a spare tire in the back."

As he stopped to investigate, Leonard said, the bandit, described as 19 or 20 years of age and clad in blue dungarees and blue shirt, leaped out brandishing a .45-caliber automatic.

"Keep still or I'll drill you," the gunman was quoted as saying.

The robber scooped up brown manila envelopes on the front seat containing weekly pay envelopes for employees working on two construction jobs, jumped back into the car and escaped, Leonard related. He said he could not give an accurate description of a second man who waited in the get-away car.

One of the payrolls was en route for delivery to workmen at the First National Bank Building at Lee and Gordon Streets, S. W., less than a block from where the holdup occurred, Christian said. He added the second

Talmadge, Arnall Vie For Senate?

By M. L. ST. JOHN

A knockdown, drag-out race between former Gov. Ellis Arnall and Gov. Herman Talmadge looms for the U. S. Senate seat of Walter F. George in 1956, associates of the two men said Friday.

However, Senator Russell, whose term expires in 1954, apparently isn't taking any chances over opposition bobbing up for the next term. He announced in Washington an intensive speaking tour of Georgia to begin in October.

ENTERS RACE

The speculation and activity came after Arnall told The Atlanta Constitution "Press Gallery" audience Wednesday night that he "is a candidate for public office." Continued questioning by newsmen and radio commentators since then has failed to get Arnall to specify what office he is seeking or what year he will enter a race. He said he would make the detailed announcement "at the proper time."

Friends and opponents of Arnall generally agree that the former governor's ambition is a seat in the Senate. This is the same ambition friends and foes of Talmadge say the governor has.

RUSSELL SEEN SECURE

Either possibly could run next year against Russell. The timing looks better for Talmadge, observers said. Talmadge would be in his final year in the governor's office and still would have resources of the state government. His friends are worried over what a two-year layoff until 1956 will do for him. Arnall, on the other hand, is just beginning to mend his political fences and observers say he has a longer way to go to get into shape for a Senate race.

The possibility of either Arnall or Talmadge tackling Russell is discounted by state political sources. Talmadge pushed Russell for President only a year ago and could hardly come out against

Durkin Rift Tied to Ike Note 'Leak'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The resigned Secretary of Labor, Martin Durkin, has refused to explain just what was in the agreement he claims the Eisenhower administration broke with him on proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act.

However, the proposed amendments are reported to pattern closely after those contained in a tentative message to Congress prepared for Eisenhower but never formally sent to Capitol Hill.

What this message contained was leaked to reporters and was generally considered more favorable to labor unions than to management. Several business organizations sharply criticized it.

The White House called it only a "preliminary draft" concerning matters still under discussion.

This draft contained 19 proposed amendments to the controversial T-H law. This is the same number of amendments on which Durkin said he reached agreement with White House staff members in the belief they were acting under Eisenhower's authority.

These are some of the proposals contained in the "preliminary draft," and believed to be substantially those on which Durkin considers he had obtained an agreement:

1. Exempt small employers and their employes from TH pro-

11 Georgia PWs Added To Missing

Double Ace Still Captive, Reds Say

Eleven more Georgians were identified Friday by the Defense Department as men believed captured by the Communists and a Red newsman admitted the Communists still hold double-jet ace Capt. Harold Fischer and some other captured American fliers.

This was the first admission by any Red source of UN charges that the Reds did not turn over all Korean prisoners wanting to go home during the PW exchange which ended last Saturday.

DOWNED ACROSS YALU?

The 11 Georgians are among 944 Americans for which the UN has asked an accounting.

The newsman, Wilfred Burchett, said that Captain Fischer of Swea City, Iowa, and an undisclosed number of other fliers were held back because the Reds contended they were shot down over Manchuria and thus were not war prisoners.

Throughout the Korean war, the UN command ordered its fliers not to cross the Yalu River from North Korea to Manchuria. Burchett said it might be necessary for negotiations "through diplomatic channels" to effect release of men they say were shot down over Manchuria.

ADDITIONAL CAPTIVES

Those identified Friday brought to 14 the number of Georgians listed by the Defense Department as being reported held by the Communists and unaccounted for.

They are:

Pfc. Billy W. Baker, son of Mrs. E. N. Morris of Rte. 4, Carrollton.

Bowen Tax Suit Settled For $142,500

The U. S. Government has settled its tax claims against John Horace Bowen for $142,500—leaving Bowen "absolutely broke," according to Asst. U. S. Atty. J. Ellis Mundy.

The settlement, reached in conferences between federal attorneys and Bowen's lawyers, is expected to be presented to U. S. District Judge Boyd Sloan on Sept. 24.

The government's suit, filed two years ago, charged that Bowen had evaded income taxes for 1943-51 and asked $550,000 in back taxes, interest and heavy penalties.

Lucy Wood tax case settled after payment of more than half of $147,758.01 claim. Page 8.

Mundy said property seized from Bowen under jeopardy assessments is valued at $106,000. This will revert to the government and Bowen will pay the remaining $36,500 in installments, he said.

The settlement also requires Bowen's wife and trustees of a fund for his daughter to waive rights to tax refunds totaling about $120,000. The government's claims were based on a contention that Bowen turned over some of his property to Mrs. Bowen and the trust to evade taxes, and they would be due refunds if the government's contention were upheld, Mundy explained.

Ike Names Gen. Hull To Succeed Clark As Far East Commander

Data Secret, Army Rips McCarthy

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—The Army accused Senator McCarthy (Rep., Wis.) today, without specifically naming him, of releasing portions of a "restricted" report used in training its intelligence officers.

McCarthy fired back that no government agency is going to "hide dishonesty, corruption or communism by stamping it secret or restricted."

The 1952 report dealt with conditions and thinking in Russia, and McCarthy contends it is 95 per cent Red propaganda.

RELEASED COPIES

As chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been looking into security and alleged Communist infiltration in the Army Department, McCarthy released photographic copies of 70 of the 75 pages of the report to reporters Wednesday.

In it, the Army said in a formal statement today, was information affecting the national defense of the United States "within the meaning of the espionage laws" and:

"The transmission or revelation of its contents in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law," it added.

The Army didn't say anything about prosecution, and it is deemed unlikely that any such course would be pursued against a member of Congress in these circumstances. Unauthorized disclosure of classified information is punishable by a $10,000 fine and up to 10 years in prison.

CONFLICTING VIEWS

The Army and the Senator sized up the report in widely conflicting fashion.

McCarthy charged Wednesday it was "clear-cut Communist propaganda" and anyone believing it would be inclined to move to Russia. The Army said reading the report would refute any contention it was Communist propaganda.

Somewhere in the middle is Senator Dirksen (Rep., Ill.) a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, who says he isn't sure yet whether the report is Red propaganda.

McCarthy said the report went to 37 U. S. Army commands last year. The Army said it was intended for distribution on a limited basis to intelligence officers "to

FAR EAST COMMANDER
Gen. John E. Hull

Deputy Chief Terms Self An Unknown

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower brushed aside the Army's big-name generals today and chose "the general that nobody knows" to be Supreme Commander in the Far East.

He is big, handsome Gen. John Edwin Hull, 58, who has been little known outside Army circles despite the behind-the-scenes influence he has wielded over the years.

Once at a party one of Hull's friends said: "How is it, Ed, that your name is never in the headlines?"

Hull grinned and replied: "I'm just the general that nobody knows."

BACKGROUND MAN

But Eisenhower and top-ranking Army men knew him so well that he was named to succeed Gen. Mark Clark when Clark retires on Oct. 30. At present he is vice chief of staff of the Army.

Ever since he left Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, back in 1917 to join the Army, giving up a medical career, Hull has been a background man. This was so much so that when President Eisenhower named him to succeed Clark, newsmen began to scramble to find out who he was.

It was pretty much the same thing when Hull played center for the Miami football team. He was "Steady Ed" in the line—but the backfield grabbed the headlines.

NOT ACADEMY MAN

There was none of the old-school-tie influence in Eisenhower's selection because Hull never attended the U. S. Military Academy. He went from Miami University into the Army when World War I broke out—and after the war decided to make the Army his career.

It was while he was in Miami that he met and became engaged to Miss Lucile Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis of Middleport, Ohio. She was then attending Western University in Oxford.

They were engaged when Hull left school in 1917 to accept a commission as second lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve. He got his reg-

Back Cuts, Humphrey Aide Asks

Asst. Secretary of the Treasury H. Chapman Rose told Atlanta lawyers Friday that the Republicans, budget-cutting policies are not hampering expansion of the nation's defense.

H. C. Rose

In a speech to the Atlanta Lawyers Club, Rose said: "We are convinced that we can get, and are working every day to get, more defense for less money by intelligent and careful planning."

He added, however, that the administration is "determined to provide the defense establishment that we must have to protect our security, regardless of the cost."

Defending the Eisenhower budget-cutting polices, he urged citzens "to exercise self-restraint in the pressures they bring on government in behalf of private interest lest they defeat the vitally necessary objective of efficient government at the lowest possible cost."

Rose, at Treasury Secretary Humphrey's right hand, is responsible for the Coast Guard, the customs service, the narcotics bureau, the Secret Service and the Bureau of the Mint, cited the customs service as an example of the success in economy measures.

Although the number of customs jobs has been cut by more than 1,000 and the volume of import-export traffic has increased substantially, Rose said, new time-saving measures have almost doubled efficiency.

Rose was introduced at the lawyers' dinner meeting by Elbert Tuttle, general counsel of the Treasury department.

Vice in Liberty Blamed As Stewart VD Climbs

By JACK NELSON
Constitution Staff Writer

CAMP STEWART, Sept. 11—More than 400 out of every 1,000 soldiers stationed at Camp Stewart will contract a venereal disease if the current VD rate continues for the next year.

Brig. Gen. Richard Mayo, commanding general, said in an exclusive interview with The Constitution that the VD rate for the post in August was 42.8 per cent. "This means," he said, "that if the rate continues for the next year, there will be 428 cases of VD for every 1,000 troops at Camp Stewart."

In Washington, the Army reported that the latest monthly VD rate for the Army—during the period April 30-May 27—was 67 cases per 1,000 soldiers.

A Third Army spokesman said the Stewart rate for August was greater than the rate for any other post in Third Army's seven Southeastern states. The spokesman said figures on VD rates throughout the Third Army area "are not available at this time."

General Mayo, whose charges of vice in Liberty County were denied again today by Sheriff Paul Sikes, declared:

"I'm going to fight for my troops, no matter what the rank—I can't enter politics but I can fight where the situation is detrimental to the welfare, morals,

Signed To Vote as Red, but Never Party Member, Lucille Ball Says

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11—(AP)—Rep. Donald Jackson (R-Calif) said tonight that television star Lucille Ball acknowledged registering a Communist party affiliation for voting purposes in 1936 but has denied she ever was a member of the party or attended Red meetings.

The testimony of Miss Ball, Jackson said, was taken by an investigator for the House un-American activities committee of which Jackson is a member. He said she had never appeared before any hearing of the committee or any of its sub-committees.

"There is no indication that Miss Ball ever was a member of the Communist Party," Jackson said.

The investigation uncovered only two documents, he said:

1—A voting registration signed by her and listing her party affiliation as "Communist."

2—Her name on a list of Communist Party state central committee members. Jackson said she had no knowledge that her name was included in this list.

"Miss Ball has co-operated with the committee investigator in all respects," he said. "She has acknowledged her Communist party registration."

The revelation of the Communist link in Miss Ball's life came to light with the discovery that she had registered March 19, 1936, as intending to affiliate with the party in the primary election of that year.

The congressman told a press conference:

Britain Hands Red China Protest on Ship Attack

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Britain fired a protest to Red China today against a Communist gunboat's attack that killed seven Britons and wounded five aboard a naval launch on patrol out of Hong Kong.

Orders went to the British envoy in Peiping, Charge d'affaires Humphrey Trevelyan, to tell Mao Tze-tung's government just what this nation thinks about the action Wednesday in international waters at the mouth of the Pearl River southwest of the crown colony.

The Foreign Office did not disclose the contents of the note at once. But the government of Prime Minister Churchill, an old seafarer himself, probably told the Chinese the attack was murder. Officials said Britain certainly does not intend to stand idly by and watch that sort of thing happen again.

2 ESCAPE INJURY

Red guns blasted 12 shots into the 72-foot launch as it cruised on a regular anti-smuggling and defense patrol. Only two of the 14-man crew escaped injury. The launch was so crippled it never could return the fire. Among those killed was a reserve army captain who had gone along just for the ride.

High British military officers attended outdoor funeral services for the seven dead in Hong Kong today. The caskets were carried slowly through Hong Kong's steaming streets to the military cemetery at Happy Valley.

From the first, Churchill's government took the incident very seriously. The Far Eastern commander in chief, Vice Adm. Sir Charles Lambe, flew into Hong Kong from Singapore to investigate it. Then Malcolm MacDonald, British Commissioner General for southeast Asia, hurried by air to the island colony. Admiralty and Foreign Office chiefs conferred in London.

WARSHIPS READIED

Informants said warships of the Royal Navy released from duty in Korean waters may be moved into the region in the coming weeks—just in case.

With a big stake in the Far East, Britain is touchy about any action against her vessels, whether by Communists or Chinese Nationalists.

British merchantmen doing business with Communist China have been stopped, searched and sometimes arrested by Nationalist Chinese units based on Formosa.

The government maintains through spokesmen here that these ships are doing lawful, non-strategic business with the Chinese Reds. And they affirm it is British policy to give full protection to ships on all lawful occasions.

WANTS SIDELINE SEAT

King of Cambodia

Cambodia Makes Bid To Get on the Sidelines

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia, Sept. 11—(AP)—King Norodom Sihanouk's premier broadcast a live-and-let-live appeal to the Vietminh today. He hinted Cambodia will take a neutral role in the Indochina war if the Communist-led rebel troops now in the kingdom withdraw.

In a radio speech that startled French and American authorities, Premier Pen Nouth told the 10,000 or so of Ho Chi Minh's fighting men on Cambodian soil:

"To you who operate in the kingdom on the pretext of helping our country reach independence, I say that we have obtained independence by our own means.

"While we are not Communists, we have no quarrel with communism as long as it doesn't impose itself by force on our people. It is not up to us to contest your right to busy yourself in Viet Nam, the neighboring state that has borne the brunt of the 7-year-old war. We ask you simply to let us live our life and leave our soil."

DIPLOMATIC DISPUTE

The French high command in Hanoi, 650 miles north of Phnom Penh, announced Ho Chi Minh's 320th Division—rated as his best—has moved into hill positions just outside the Red River delta, the key bastion of all French defenses in Indochina. The division was under attack by French bombers. seven other divisions were reported at the enemy's disposal.

The military emergency and a diplomatic dispute between France and Cambodia form the background for Premier Pen Nouth's statement. The diplomatic dispute is over details of the full independence that France has promised all three associated states of Indochina—Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos — after the war's end.

SIMILAR COMMENT

"If Cambodia believes the fight against the Vietminh doesn't concern her," said a source close to French Commissioner General Maurice Dejean, "then we have no reason whatsoever to help her."

Similar comment came from a spokesman at the U. S. Embassy:

"We are surprised by the neutralist position. The fight against communism is the only motivation of our action in extending aid. If the American Congress has agreed to help Cambodia it is for that sole reason. If Cambodia denies all will to fight communism, Congress may be led to cut off the military aid that Cambodia has asked and also economic aid, of which she has more urgent need."

60 Clergymen Are Labeled 'Secret' Reds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Testimony that 60 or more American clergymen are "secret" members of the Communist party, and 3,000 or 4,000 others are in "the fellow-traveling category,' ' was made public today by the House un-American activities committee.

The testimony was given last July in closed committee sessions in New York City by admitted former Communist leaders.

Although the New York meetings ostensibly were called to probe communism in the New York area—and the printed hearings were identified as such—they dealt almost exclusively with alleged Communist infiltration of religion.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jenner (Rep., Ind.) of the Senate internal security subcommittee said two New Yorkers—one a teacher, the other a magazine editor—had been described by other witnesses as active participants in "an effort to establish a communist cell in Catholic organizations.

The two were identified as Harold King, teacher, and Thomas Davin, editor.

Jenner gave no indication whether the alleged Red plot, which dated back a dozen years or so ago, was successful.

The figures on the number of clergymen allegedly active in the communist movement were given by Joseph Zack Kornfeder, 56-year-old native of Slovakia. Kornfeder said he joined the Communist party in 1919, was active in its councils in New York, New Jersey and Ohio,and quit the party in 1934.

The plan to inject communism slyly into religion, Kornfeder told the House committee, was conceived by high Communists when they discovered that they couldn't beat religion from the outside.

"They created a thing that became known as the living church movement," he said, and it was based "on the idea of interpreting the teachings of Christ and the Apostles in a way that would serve to a large extent Communist purposes.

"The general idea is to move from the spiritual concept to the materialistic one and to make the church an instrument of social strife," he explained.

Justice Vinson Laid To Rest In Home Town

LOUISA, Ky., Sept. 11 (AP)—Fred M. Vinson, 13th Chief Justice of the United States, was buried today on a knoll overlooking the valley where he was born and reared.

Vinson died Tuesday in Washington of a heart attack. He was 63.

The body of the former small-town lawyer who rose to the highest judicial office in the land was laid to rest in Pine Hill Cemetery after brief funeral services at the Louisa Methodist church this afternoon.

Vinson attended the church in his youth, but later became an Episcopalian.

The Rev. Charles Perry officiated today.

Dozens of Vinson's associates in government service and scores of others who knew him came to his home town to pay their last respects.

Soviet Policy Reeling, Says Reuter, Seeing German Unity Without War

BERLIN, Sept. 11 (AP) Ernst Reuter, mayor of West Berlin, said today Soviet policy is wavering and he believes the powder-keg problem of a divided Germany will be settled without war.

"The day must come," Reuter said in an interview, "when they (the Russians) realize they can't digest East Germany."

He said he couldn't gauge when that day will be, "but they are thinking it over now.'

Reuter said he is convinced "the Soviets do not want a war, and can't afford one." The problem now may very well be for the West to find some face-saving solution for the Kremlin, he added.

The mayor is in a unique position to observe and analyze Soviet moves.

WESTERN OUTPOST

His city government stands as a Western outpost, an island in a sea of Soviet-occupied territory. He has daily contacts with persons coming in from East Germany. Moreover, he has been a lifelong student of Russia and the policies and methods of her rulers.

Reuter said that, since the death of Stalin and the June 17 uprisings in East Germany, "I am feeling much better" about the outlook here.

His line of reasoning is this:

1. The determination of the East Germans to be reunited with the West is unimpaired after eight years of Russian occupation. He believes that fewer than 10 per cent are true Communists, however many may be paying lip service to the Russians.

BUILDING PRESSURE

2. West Berlin is an impressive showcase for Western economic methods. For the East Berliner, it is a bitter contrast to his own grim situation. This fact, plus nearly four million food parcels given by the West, is steadily building pressure against the Reds.

3. The June 17 revolt was a direct result of such pressure.

4. Therefore, "the hope that they (the Russians) can use East Germany as a political platform for the conquest of all Germany is finished."

Reuter said the present Western policies, if continued on a stronger basis, will bring success 'eventually.

He is struggling to reduce his city's unemployment, improve housing and build up the general economic welfare. West Berlin is a burden on West Germany, but he feels it is paying off with important dividends.

Poland Asks Return of Interpreter

TOKYO, Sept. 12—(AP)—The Communist radio reported today that Red Poland has demanded the return of a Polish interpreter who "chose freedom" in Korea this week.

The Pyongyang propaganda broadcast said a note addressed to Gen. Mark W. Clark by Polish Maj. Gen. M. Wolgrowski repeated the Communist charge that Jan Hadjukiewicz was "kidnaped" by U. S. authorities.

Hajdukiewicz, interpreter for a "neutral" inspection team, turned himself in to U. S. officers at a South Korean airfield on Wednesda yand asked for asylum as a political refugee.

U. S. Renews Demand On Soviet Lend-Lease

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—The United States made a new demand today that Russia return 670 lend-lease ships and settle its wartime debt.

Undersecretary of State Walter B. Smith handed a memorandum to Russian Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin renewing the American demand during a 14-minute meeting.

The State Department said Smith requested that the United States "be informed at an early date of the intentions of the Soviet government with respect to the return of United States-owned lend-lease vessels."

REFUSES COMMENT

Zarubin walked out of Smith's office grim-faced and said "No, no, no" when asked by reporters whether he wanted to say anything about his call.

Russia has been evasive about turning back the vessels despite repeated American demands. Of the total, 554 are small naval craft, 87 are merchant vessels and 29 are small Army craft such as landing boats.

Lend-lease negotiations with the Russians have dragged on for more than six years. The Soviet government offered last year to pay 300 million dollars to write "closed' to the wartime account.

CALLS FOR PAYMENT

The United States has demanded that Moscow pay 800 million dollars in addition to returning the vessels.

This sum has been asked as compensation for nearly $2,600,000,000 in lend-lease items which American officials estimate had peacetime value to Russia after the war ended.

Altogether, the United States shipped nearly 11 billion dollars worth of materials and supplies to Russia during World War II.

GM Awarded 200 Million Tank Contract

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens announced today he has decided to award the Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corp. a contract for medium tanks. About 200 million dollars will be involved.

Stevens also said in a statement that General Motors and Reo Motors Corp. have been awarded contracts totaling about 146 million dollars on 2½-ton trucks.

Stevens said the GMC truck contract totaled 85 million and the Reo contract approximately 61 million.

The M48 medium-gun tank contract will be awarded to General Motors "in the public interest" on a bid approximately 12 per cent lower than the quotation by the Chrysler Corp., Stevens said.

"In making this decision," the secretary added, "I have conferred with Assistant Secretary Slezak, in charge of materiel, and with representatives of the Ordnance Corps and the supply division of the Army staff.

"After carefully weighing all of the factors, I decided upon the award as being clearly in the public interest."

Britain, U. S. Seen Winning Delay On Question of Seating Red China

By THOMAS J. HAMILTON
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 11—The United States and Britain will stand together in opposing a decision on the admission of Communist China representatives to the United Nations' General Asembly before the Christmas recess. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, the Soviet delegate, has already announced that he will raise the question in the assembly, which is to convene Tuesday.

The United States originally had favored a resolution under which the assembly would have refused to consider the question at any time during the 1953 session. At least theoretically this session could last until the 1954 session begins the following September.

RULE OUT YEAR

However, Britain, together with some Western European and Commonwealth countries, was unwilling to agree to a year's postponement at this time. Since both the U. S. and British delegations are eager to avoid a repetition of the recent split over the participation of India in the projected Far Eastern political conference, they agreed to join in sponsoring a resolution opposing the seating of the Chinese Communists during the fall part of the session.

Each will be free to decide its own course in the assembly next year, after the adjournment of the Far Eastern conference, which is expected to start in October and may last until Christmas or later. However, it is assumed that the United States and Britain will hold new consultations before the question again arises in the assembly.

OUT-OF-ORDER RULE

Vishinsky has not revealed when he will make his proposal, but it is assumed that if he attempts to do so on the opening day, he will be ruled out of order. Under usual assembly procedure, the question of seating the Communist Chinese would not be taken up until after the credentials committee was appointed and submitted its report—which is expected next Wednesday or Thursday.

Although India and several other Asian countries are expected to support the Soviet move, it is believed that the United States-British proposal will get a majority. The two delegations are now working on the language of the resolution. In the British view, this should state that the future attitude of the assembly would depend, among other factors, on the behavior of Communist China at the Far Eastern conference.

Gordon Dean Wins Divorce

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 11—(AP)—Gordon Dean, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, obtained a divorce today from his wife of 23 years on grounds of mental cruelty.

Dean, 47, and his wife, Adelaide, arranged an agreement on property and custody of their two children, Martha, 2, and Franklin, 14. The terms were not divulged. The Deans were married Aug. 9, 1930, in Pasadena.

Sultan Spared As Assailant Fells Charger

RABAT, Morocco, Sept. 11—(AP)—A native housepainter tried vainly today to kill the new Sultan of Morocco by running him down with a junky old automobile. The Sultan's guards slew the assailant on the spot.

Mouley Mohammed Ben Arafa, 64, whom France enthroned as nominal ruler of this French North African protectorate three weeks ago, was riding his white Arabian horse from his palace to the Tour-anga mosque for Moslem Sabbath prayers when he was attacked.

The house painter, identified by French police as Allal Be Abdallah 28, gunned a 23-year-old convertible into the crowd and guards surrounding the Sultan.

His first attempt to get through the willing mass failed. He charged again.

This time the crowd gave way and he smashed into the Sultan's horse, knocking it down with the Sultan and breaking one of its legs. Then his car stalled.

A guardsman who was off duty but happened to be present jumped on the running board. He said the driver had a butcher knife in his hand.

The Sultan's guard quickly closed around the car and killed Abdallah with a hail of bullets.

The bearded Sultan got up from the ground calmly. Told that his horse was injured, he walked the few remaining steps to the mosque.

French police indicated they regarded the assassination attempt as a personal rather than a political matter.

Talmadge, Arnall Vie For Senate?

him for the Senate, they point out.

Most sources feel that Senator George will not seek another term in 1956, although the senior senator has made no announcement to that effect. Both George and Talmadge have branded as false the rumors that the senator would resign before the end of his present term.

At present, political sources think Talmadge and Arnall will vie with each other next year to get one of their group into the governor's chair in order to have a friendly governor for help when the Senate race comes up in 1956.

Russell, who hasn't had mentionable opposition since he turned back the late Gov. Eugene Talmadge in 1936, announced the following speaking schedule: Oct. 2, REA meeting at Cumming; Oct. 22, Sylvester; Oct. 30, REA meeting at Cairo; Nov. 11, American Legion Atlanta Post No. 1; Nov. 17, National Fertilizer Association meeting in Atlanta; Nov. 19, farmers' meeting at Quitman; Dec. 7, Georgia Association of Soil Conservation Supervisors' meeting in Atlanta, and Dec. 9 or 10, Georgia Food Plant Education Association in Atlanta.

Arnall Hits New Building By Talmadge

Constitution State News Service

CALHOUN, Sept. 11—The Talmadge administration Friday was charged with putting up expensive new buildings "for an army of state job holders" at the State Capitol, while deferring construction of four much-needed buildings at Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia.

Fomer Gov. Ellis Arnall made the charges in a talk to the Rotary Club here. He labeled the state administration's handling of finances as "highly unfortunate and decidedly improper."

Arnall referred to the Board of Regents' action this week deferring construction of the proposed college buildings because of lack of funds. At the same time, he observed that the State Office Building Authority has let contracts for construction of a judicial building, labor-office building and agriculture building on Capitol Square.

"The boys and girls of Georgia suffer while the state job holders have a picnic at taxpayers' expense," he declared. "What kind of hokus pokus financial operation is this? The administration can easily find tax money for increased salaries and expensive buildings for political patronage job holders, but not for increased salaries to teachers and needed buildings at Tech and Georgia for our young men and women."

PLAYING THE SLOTS IN LIBERTY COUNTY
Sheriff Admits Devices Operated Near Army Post

Vice Growth Reflected In Stewart VD Rate

morale and well being of the troops."

Pointing to the all-time high VD rate for Stewart soldiers, General Mayo made it clear that he considers the "situation" in Liberty County "extremely bad" and detrimental to the soldiers. He said it seriously interferes with the training of the troops.

General Mayo charged that "dives and joints in Liberty County use women as barmaids as a come-on to the troops." He said that most of the soldiers would not do business with these places if it weren't for the barmaids.

"After the soldiers buy their drinks and put money in slot machines, some of them go out with the barmaids after work hours," he said.

The general said that most of the barmaids are young girls. "They come from everywhere," he said, "and the large majority are not local women."

He charged that there are "flagrant violations of the state laws in Liberty County as regards gambling devices, prostitution and sale of whisky."

Meanwhile, Sheriff Sikes again denied the general's charges of vice in Liberty County.

However, he admitted gambling devices are operated in the county.

"What did you find in Liberty County?" Sheriff Sikes asked a Constitution reporter who toured the county's night spots Wednesday night.

Told that gambling devices were observed in most places, the sheriff said:

"We admit that. The gambling devices are taxed $10 a month by the county. Federal license is paid on them, too. The machines have been here for 35 or 40 years. No one individual owns them. There must be 15 individuals who have them."

Sheriff Sikes said the people of Liberty County "appear to be satisfied with the gambling devices because they mean a lot of revenue for the county."

ARMY WIVES

The sheriff charged that some of the "barmaids" referred to by General Mayo "are wives of Army personnel and their husbands work in some of the places in their spare time."

He claimed that "the Army won't give us co-operation in fighting prostitution in Liberty County—at least we haven't received co-operation in regards to this since General Mayo has been at Camp Stewart." He added that he was "sure" most of the venereal disease cases at Camp Stewart originated outside of Liberty County.

"We stand ready to do anything we can to make this county a better place to live in," Sheriff Sikes said. "We've always worked with every post commander at Camp Stewart, but he (Mayo) won't let us work with him. He won't even talk to us—the sheriff's office, judge of the city court, solicitor general—and won't have anything to do with us."

Sheriff Sikes said that his deputies make periodic checks on night spots in the county and that they haven't found vice conditions as pictured by General Mayo. He said Hinesville city police also are deputized and make checks on establishments outside the city limits.

General Mayo, commander of Camp Stewart since last March, had "no comment" as to whether he was briefed on the situation in Liberty County before he assumed command of the anti-aircraft training center.

Asked to comment on Sheriff Sikes' earlier statement that "every other officer here has been happy about conditions in this area but nothing has suited him (Mayo) since he came here," General Mayo said:

YOUNG INDUCTEES

"I don't know what the opinions of officers preceding me were. Officers interpret regulations according to their own conscience."

General Mayo said that most of the trainees at Camp Stewart are young inductees "who have to be on the firing range at 6 a. m., which means they have to be up at 4:30 a. m."

He said "they cannot be out in some honky tonk after midnight drinking whisky and then get up and do their job right the next morning. What I object to strenuously is the selling of liquor after midnight and the use of barmaids to seduce the soldiers."

Questioned about his earlier statement to the Hinesville Lions Club that the permanence of Camp Stewart may well depend on making Liberty County morally attractive to the Army, he said:

"I cannot say that Stewart might be closed by the Army because of bad elements in the surrounding area. But even the layman knows that when the government is economizing and considering closing military installations, the first ones to be closed, if other factors were equal, would be ones where the conditions in surrounding communities are not conducive to the health and welfare of the soldiers."

Meanwhile in Atlanta, State Revenue Commissioner Charles Redwine said:

"We've known all along there's been a bad situation in Liberty County through the sale of liquor by unlicensed people.

"Where you can't get the co-operation of the local law enforcement officers you can't do a good job of cleaning up the situation," he said.

was to have gone to workmen employed at the Sears, Roebuck West End store.

Pay envelops for four other jobs over Atlanta were locked in the glove compartment of Leonard's truck, Christian said.

Company officials said Leonard, who had been employed as payroll messenger for two months, followed a different route each week as a precaution and that each route was a carefully guarded secret. They told detectives the loss was covered by insurance.

Christian said the bandits evidently followed Leonard as he left the plant and closed in as he reached the Glenn Street underpass. He said pedestrians on the sidewalk as well as motorists on heavily traveled Lee and Glenn Streets apparently were unaware of the robbery.

Hull Gets Clark's Post As Chief in Far East

ular Army commission in October of the same year and the following summer went to France with the 4th Infantry Division.

WAR I FIGHTER

Hull fought in the Aisne-Marne offensive and later the St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne offensives. He won a Silver Star for gallantry in action.

And then the war was over and he came home to marry Lucile Davis. Hull decided to give up the medical career he had planned and to stay in the Army.

Hull is a rugged six-footer with blue eyes, and an easy air of self confidence. Army life wasn't particularly rough for him because he had been raised on a farm near Greenfield, Ohio, the youngest of nine children.

After World War I, Hull began the tours of duty that form the pattern of military service for those who are on their way up in the Army.

WAR PLANS UNIT

Just before the bombing of Pearl Harbor, Hull was assigned to the war plans division of the War Department General Staff in Washington. Eight months later he was named chief of the European section of the operations division, handling all the operational matters in the European theater.

Hull's friends say his bitterest disappointment was that he never got a combat command in Europe or in the Pacific during World War II.

In 1944, he was made assistant chief of staff for operations on the War Department's General Staff and in 1945 he was chosen as a member of the executive committee of the Research Board for National Security.

MIDDLE PACIFIC

A year after the war ended in Europe, Hull took over command of the U. S. Army forces in the Middle Pacific with headquarters at Fort Shafter, Hawaii.

Later he commanded Joint Task Force Seven in conducting the first tests of atomic weapons for the Atomic Energy Commission at Eniwetok. And then he climbed to the office of vice chief of staff of the Army, a post he has held for the past two years.

Tokyo will find Hull to be a genial, soft-voiced man with easy manners—but a core of hardness that probably goes back to those days on the farm. He isn't likely to be flamboyant or eccentric—but neither will he be hard to approach or to talk to.

McCarthy, Army Row On Report

Pamphlet 'Secret,' Military Claims

develop understanding of the Soviet people which will be militarily useful in case of war."

"It is obvious," the Army said "that the necessary instruction of officers and men in this field cannot proceed without attempting to enter the mind and thought processes of the Soviet citizen."

The report itself showed it was prepared by the Far East Command and said its purpose was to bring out Soviet vulnerabilities in the event of war and the occupation of Siberia.

The Army declassified the report as of 10 a.m. yesterday because of prior disclosure. Here is one of the sections cited by the Army to show the tenor of the document:

"The American viewpoint of life in the Soviet Union remains valid in all essentials. The Soviet citizen enjoys neither the liberty nor the civil rights which we cherish and insist upon as a natural endowment to all men. The 'free' worker in the Soviet Union is as much chained to his job and local area as is the convict."

McCarthy got a copy of the Army statement near the close of a public hearing dealing with communism among United States citizens at the United Nations.

"I find," he commented, "that unfortunately the Army today is doing what they did under the old Truman administration. The pattern is the same.

"The document is 95 per cent Communist propaganda. Two or three or five per cent is a slap on the wrist for communism. When ever they are called to task, they quote the small per cent that lightly condemns Communism."

Cpl. Edward J. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint A. Stone, Lyons.

Sfc. Joseph K. Evans, husband

Billy Baker — Ralph McKinley

of Mrs. Mary A. Evans, 3253 Marlies Circle, Macon.

Sgt. Jimmy E. King, son of Mrs. Sally King, West Bainbridge.

Cpl. William A. Cowart, son of Mrs. Mattie S. Green, former of Dublin, now living in Monticello, Ark.

GOT LETTER IN JUNE

Relatives of five of the GIs have heard from various sources the men were prisoners of war.

Cpl. Cowart's mother received a letter from her son in June written from a Red PW camp.

Sergeant Evans was included on a Communist list of prisoners they held in October of 1950.

Pfc. Baker and Pfc. Brown have been identified as PWs by repatriated American soldiers, and the father of Pfc. McKinley identified his son in a propaganda photograph released by the Communists in November of 1950.

Mrs. Evans said she "still has some hope—but not much" that her husband, missing since July 12, 1950, is still alive. Sergeant Evans, 31, was carried on a Communist list in August of men who escaped, she said.

W. A. Cowart

Mrs. Sally King, mother of Sergeant King, said she had "just about given up hope" for her son. "I know that if there was any way in the world, he'd have written me," she said. She has not heard from her 22-year-old son since he was listed missing Dec. 1, 1950.

She said her hope for him failed when she learned that after his unit—the Second Division—was surrounded by the Reds, "all the cooks were shot." Her son was a cook, she added.

Corporal Cowart, whose mother has received several letters from her son, has been missing since the 18th day of fighting in Korea. She related that her 20-year-old son—in a letter received June 27—said he was in "excellent" health.

James Harnage said his 23-year-old brother, Lawrence, has been missing since July 29, 1950, and relatives have received no word from him. "But we haven't given up hope yet," he added.

NOTHING FROM HIM

Earl Stone, oldest brother of Corporal Stone, said his 21-year-old brother had been missing since Nov. 27, 1950. "We haven't heard a word from him—only the telegrams about him being missing, and the one about him being unaccounted for," he said. The family, however, is "still hoping," he added.

The corporal has another brother, Pvt. Howard J. Stone, now serving in Korea.

McKinley's father said he had not heard from his son since he left Japan for Korea in 1951. The 21-year-old private was captured 12 days after the start of the Korean war. His mother is deceased.

"I've kept hoping but felt for a long time that he was dead," his father said. "I tell you what I believe—in my opinion, that whole bunch of fellows is either dead or in those Russian slave labor camps," McKinley said.

WORKED WITH SON

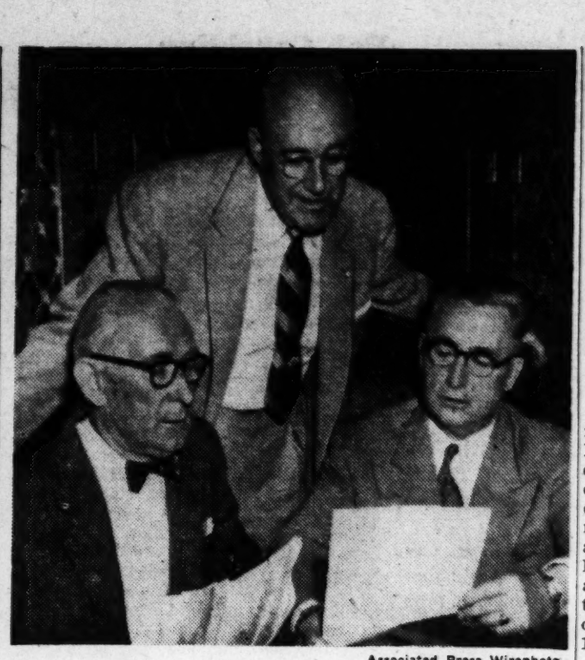

Mrs. Morris said Pfc. Baker, a 24-year-old Marine, went to Korea in July of 1950, and was captured Dec. 6, 1950. She said she talked with an Oklahoma GI repatriated in the PW exchange who told her he was held in Communist PW Camp No. 5 with her son and had worked and talked with him.

"I think he's still alive in enemy hands," she said, "and I feel like it's up to us to get him back. I think we ought to use the H-bomb if necessary."

The father of Pfc. Brown, missing in action since July 17, 1952, said a repatriated PW last spring reported he was in camp with Brown. "My wife thinks he's still alive," he said. Pfc. Brown's wife, Laura, lives in Mableton.

In Augusta, Mrs. Braswell said she still has hope her son is alive. He has been missing since 1950 and she has heard nothing from him.

visions, leaving this jurisdiction to the states.

2. Narrow the present law's definition of the supervisory class of employes who are exempt from the law's provisions. This would allow some employes presently classed as exempt supervisors to be included in bargaining units.

3. Make unions less legally responsible for actions of individual union members than under present law.

4. Workers may now be discharged under compulsory union membership provisions under the present law only for non-payment of dues. It was recommended that, in addition, a union be allowed to expel a member and require an employer to discharge him if the member (a) discloses "confidential information of the union," or (b) is affiliated or "sympathetic" to the Communist party.

5. Let unions and employers establish hiring standards specifying training or experience qualifications required for employment.

6. Let unions and employers in the construction, amusement, maritime and other "casual or intermittent" employment industries enter into work contracts before any employees are actually hired.

7. Make the ban against secondary boycotts less restrictive on unions.

8. Present law bars strikers in a plant from participating in a government-held election to determine whether workers still want to be represented by the union involved. This is the proviso Eisenhower has said could be used as a "union busting device." The recommendation was that there shall be no such election until four months after a strike begins.

9. Prohibit unions from making new demands against an employer during the life of an existing labor contract, unless the contract itself authorizes such negotiations.

10. Abolish the present requirement for non-Communist affidavits from union leaders, with this matter to be dealt with later in separate legislation.

11. Remove the present requirement that the government must seek a court injunction against secondary boycotts, making application for the injunctions discretionary rather than mandatory.

12. Eliminate the present requirement that an employe must renew a union dues checkoff authorization annually, making such authorization valid indefinitely until revoked by the employe.

13. Allow employers to waive participation in administering union welfare funds. The employer must participate under present law.

reparable damage may result to Miss Ball unless the full extent of the committee's information is disclosed, the committee has decided to release to the press and radio a sworn affidavit given to a committee investigator by Miss Ball relating to her registration as a Communist party voter and to her designation as a member of the state central committee in 1936."

Jackson said that Miss Ball's affidavit denies giving her authority to Emil Freed, one-time top California Communist, for her appointment to the Communist state central committee.

"She has denied that she was ever in attendance at any Communist party meeting, or that she participated in or attended the meetings of the Communist party state central committee in Sacramento in 1936," Jackson said.

He added that the house un-American activities committee checked former Communists "to determine whether or not Miss Ball was in attendance at the convention in question. The then chairman of the Communist party state central committee, as a friendly witness, has testified under oath that he has never met Miss Ball and that he has no personal knowledge as to her membership in the Communist party or her attendance at the Communist party state convention in 1936 at which he presided."

Jackson said further, however, that the committee will continue its investigation of Miss Ball's case.

He disclosed that during the same period that Miss Ball registered as a Communist voter "the same registration was effected by her mother, Mrs. Desiree Ball, and her brother, Fred H. Ball. Her grandfather, Fred C. Hunt, since deceased, also registered as a Communist during the same period," Jackson said.

Cotton Crop Curbs Are Cinch for '54

The latest forecast by the Agriculture department of cotton production this year is 15,159,000 bales—third largest in history. This is 554,000 bales more than the estimate a month ago.

If the forecast is accurate, and reports over the cotton belt indicate bumper production, federal curbs on the 1954 crop are inevitable. Whether it wants to or not, the administration must fall back on the old New Deal depression medicine—crop quotas.

Agricultural officials have said that a 1953 crop of 12,000,000 bales or more would create a cotton surplus. Under present laws, Mr. Benson must invoke such controls as are necessary to adjust production to demand next year. He has until Oct. 15 to set acreage allotments and marketing quotas.

All of which brings up the age-old arguments about the justice of such controls, of crop price supports and of subsidies in general. They do not solve basic problems of farm economics—they only prolong them by providing a substitute for actual solution.

However, it is difficult to see how a free market economy can operate for the farmer while labor, industry and other groups maintain their guarantees.

This problem was pointed up by Walter Reuther, CIO president, in a Labor Day address. Mr. Reuther called for enough purchasing power in the hands of all Americans to balance the country's great productive capacity. He was, of course, thinking of increasing industrial dollar wages—accomplished in the past by strikes, wage-hour laws and other devices.

Increased industrial wages, guaranteed by government, and tariff restrictions to protect the manufacturer, while the farmer goes it alone in unrestricted production and on a free market, create a lopsided economy that simply cannot function. Decreasing farm income, accompanied by rising prices of products the farmer must buy, means eventual ruin, not only for the farmer, but for the segments of industry and labor depending upon him as a market.

Guarantees to labor and to industry mean proportionate guarantees must be made to the farmer, usually in thinly disguised subsidies and production controls. Raising the "purchasing power" in the manner of which Mr. Reuther speaks means raising the cost of goods produced by labor, which in turn means more subsidies for the farmer and increases in social security and old-age benefits for those who have retired as income producers if they are to hold a relative position.

As desirable as it looks, attainment of an absolutely free economy in this country involves more than just freeing the farmer. It would mean that industry and labor, too, must give up government guarantees and protections.

Let's Fill Labor Post From 'Civilian' Ranks

President Dwight Eisenhower's appointment of Martin L. Durkin as Secretary of Labor came as a surprise to almost everyone in the nation, especially to politicians.

Not only was Durkin a Democrat, not only was he active in the labor movement, but he was president of a national union, the AFL plumbers' union.

The skeptics said they would wait and see. They sat with their fingers crossed as they watched what looked like a noble experiment.

Now they have seen.

Mr. Durkin is a man of high principle. He found that he could not fill a post that required service to all the people when his experience and his allegiance had been to a special class. So he resigned.

That leaves it up to the President. We trust he has learned his lesson, that in choosing a successor to Martin Durkin he will pick a man who is not directly allied either to labor or to management, and who can guard the welfare of all, not a few.

Finding one like that won't be easy. We wish the President luck.

The nation always has insisted on a civilian, and not a military man, in the Defense post. Likewise, the Labor secretary should be a "civilian" and not a general from the ranks of labor nor a captain of industry.

Local Communities Must Support Schools

Recent discussions of the Georgia school problem seem to have come to a common conclusion—the local community must give more financial support to the schools.

It one wants to know what is meant by support at the local level, he has only to ask someone like B. I. Thornton, president of the school board in Cordele.

Speaking to a civic club in his city the other day, Mr. Thornton said that Cordele is spending every cent of its anticipated $273,894 and carrying a $30,000 debt at the same time. He said further that the school board is solely dependent on the 10-mill school levy included in the city tax structure.

If the school board is to make ends meet, the city must collect every dollar of taxes on the books. That is something few cities are able to do. If people don't pay their taxes, then the income for schools will fall below the amount budgeted and the school board will come up short.

To aggravate the situation, the Cordele board president told his audience, the amount of state aid under the "chargeback" system is less than anticipated. Thus the local agency must make up the difference.

Mr. Thornton told it to them straight. "Either the income must be increased or the expenses decreased," he said. "You are going to have to do without more teachers, pencil sharpeners, maps, etc., unless you want to pay more taxes or to pass the hat."

That is one school board member's statement of a situation and one community's problem. We cite it as typical in Georgia.

The state is playing its part as an equalizer among schools. From there on it's up to the separate city and county systems.

More support at the local level means raising the tax levy for schools and then collecting the taxes that are levied. As Mr. Thornton told them at Cordele, it's either that, passing the hat or doing without.

Fingers Are Crossed On Summerfield Plan

Postmaster General Summerfield's plan to put wings on the lowly 3-cent letter and not-so-lowly 2-cent postcard should win endorsement from millions who have suffered from ox-cart mail service.

The idea, far from reality yet, is in the testing stages, and will be given trial runs on routes between New York and Chicago and between Chicago and Washington. Summerfield estimates delivery time between these three cities could be cut as much as 24 hours.

Whatever the outcome, it is encouraging to see the nation's No. 1 postmaster is concerned with improving the deteriorating U. S. mail service. If Summerfield's plan should prove practical for the entire country, and ordinary mail takes to the skies, no doubt the present air mail service then will have to be designated as jet-mail, perhaps delivered by rockets.

Tift Teachers Learn Soil Conservation

As a prelude to Soil Conservation Week, conservationists in Tift County carried the teachers in three of the county schools on guided tours of farms in the communities where they will be employed.

The faculty members saw contour tillage, Coastal Bermuda pastures, farm ponds and waterways planted in Bermuda and other grasses. They learned first hand what is being done to save the land.

They are much better equipped to teach soil conservation since they have seen what is going on within gunshot of the schoolhouse, on the very farms represented by pupils in their classes.

These field trips are a comparatively new feature. They are a part of a plan of teacher orientation which in some communities takes the form of "Business Education Day," when the teachers visit the factories and learn what the community has to offer industrially.

No classroom teacher can do her job adequately unless she knows well the environment from which her students come. The Tift County soil conservation tours, the "Business Education Days" are projects that every community could copy with profit.

In The Early County News

So Mr. Eisenhower thinks TVA and REA is creeping socialism. Well, if he gets out in the country where people used to have to draw water from the well, wash clothes in a tin tub and keep their milk and butter in an old ice refrigerator, and make such a statement, somebody might creep all over him. My opinion is that REA is the best thing that has happened to the rural population since Henry Ford put a motor in a buggy.

Brain-Washing Is Mind Destruction

NEW YORK—No phase of the prisoner exchange in Korea was more blood-chilling than the accounts some of our men gave of the calculated destruction of their minds.

The braver men resisted the efforts of the Reds to wring "confessions" from them, or information to which the Reds were not entitled under the Geneva Convention. Unquestionably, many died for persisting in a stand. Others, like the great World War II ace, Col. Mahurin, attempted suicide when driven at long last to distraction. Still others quickly "confessed," confident that they could later explain away their seeming confirmation of Russian charges against the United States. A handful came around to the Communist way of thinking and betrayed their fellow Americans either because their love of creature comforts was greater than their love of country or because they had been successfully sold.

"Brain-washing," as foreign correspondent Edward Hunter calls it in a shocking book about the practice ("Brain-Washing in Red China," Vanguard Press) became the psychological whip with which our men were almost daily flogged during their captivity in Korea. Strong men broke without a mark on their bodies or "truth serum" in their veins, and almost eagerly parroted preposterous Communist propaganda over the enemy radio.

Why?

Robert Vogeler, who "confessed" and served 17 months of a 15-year sentence for alleged espionage in Hungary, quoted one of his endless interrogators as boasting, "If God Himself was sitting in that chair we would make him say what we wanted him to say."

General Dean spoke with shattering understatement of sleepless grillings that lasted more than 60 hours. Others broke under standing at attention for hours, under threats of wholesale butchery among buddies, and, of course, out of an overpowering sense of self-preservation. There is no doubt that at this moment Lavrenti Beria, who helped devise this agony, is undergoing it and will appear in court, apparently sound of body and mind, and confess to crimes which not even this foul monster could have committed.

Hunter recalls in his book that Angus Ward, the American consul who was arrested by the Reds and held for several months, was not fully believed when—after his release—he told members of the Overseas Press Club in New York that if his Chinese interrogators had questioned him for another two weeks he would have "confessed" to anything they wanted.

This, then, is an appeal to the armed forces to refrain from sweeping condemnations or prosecutions of those who "confessed" in Korean captivity. There is much to learn from them about this fresh horror visited upon the world.

Highway Killer Is Indiscriminate

The last twang of "The Steel Guitar Rag," which is the hillbilly national anthem, had sounded, and the announcer went back to the microphone to close the program:

"Remember, friends," he said, "drive carefully—the life you save may be mine."

This personal injunction was rendered last week end when everyone was concerned with the impending highway toll of Labor Day. All mediums of public information had sounded the alarm, the State Patrol was geared to go and every effort was being made to keep down the gas-fed carnage.

The week end was a big traffic success; only nine persons lost their lives. Undoubtedly one of the major factors was the State Patrol. This agency put every available man on the road. Cars were stopped and drivers asked to produce their licenses. The lesson would appear to be that each day—not only on holiday week ends—we must have more men patrolling, more drivers checked for licenses. This will cost money, but the amount is a pittance compared to the economic havoc of highway doom.

The director of the Safety Patrol of a Southern state was addressing a highway conference a few days ago. "Already," he said, "my state has lost more men this year on the highways than we have lost in Korea." Every state has its paved Heartbreak Ridge, but no principle of sacrifice for brotherhood or democracy is involved. The sacrifices are laid upon the crumpled-steel altar of speed and carelessness and human frailty.

Just as in war, the heavy toll of the highway comes from the ranks of the young. The highway is one of the few reasons civilians die young. What the statisticians refer to formally as "motor vehicle accidents" accounts for most of the deaths between the years 15 through 24.

Here in Georgia death on the highway is the evil to watch for when one is young. Think, yes, of the age-old diseases which come to take one away, but think first of the highway, for that is the principal avenue to the other world. The highway is the leading cause of death for Georgians 15 to 25. It is the second leading cause for their younger brothers and sisters, 5 to 14.

Science has its definite drawbacks. The men in white have brought the shots and pills and salves which turn aside death, but at the same time science has brought us more and faster cars to take the place of the fatal illnesses of old.

Answer to highway safety lies in all directions: better legislation, better safety patrolling, better highways, better automobiles, and—most of all—better drivers.

Every chance one takes on the highway is a loaded-dice gamble, and the junkyard is fast becoming the national monument.

South More Than Holding Its Own In World of Scattered Prosperity

Vero Beach, Fla.—Take a look around the free world today and you will find few places where there is real prosperity. In Europe, West Germany's comeback from the rubble of war is especially noteworthy. Hard work and free enterprise have achieved the results. Belgium, with a big assist from her overseas possessions in Africa, is enjoying sound prosperity.

In South America, Venezuela has excellent economic conditions. Oil in the Maracaibo district and mountains of iron ore in eastern Venezuela are the reasons millions of U. S. dollars are pouring into that country.

In North America, Canada is in the midst of a boom, comparable to that in the United States at the close of the 19th century. The United States has two kinds of prosperity. In the North employment and production are still at record levels, but a genuine peace movement could pull the rug from under a prosperity based on military preparedness.

In the South, however, prosperity is different. Industrial expansion below the Mason-Dixon Line is free enterprise creating billions in new wealth and altering the economic face of the Southland. Among all the bright spots of prosperity in the West, Dixie leads in the formation of new wealth. NORMAN S. COOK.

Thinks People Should Keep A Record of Their Family

Watkinsville—We often wonder why so many people keep no record of their family. When the older people of most families die, the younger ones know absolutely nothing of our great grandparents. We wish we knew where we could find the old family Bible where the names of Randolph, Robert and Stephens Hester were recorded.

We are from the Hester family but know nothing about most of them. We feel sure there is a record in some Hester Bible in this state with the name of Randolph Hester in it. MRS. JOHN C. SAXON.

Kingston-born, She Liked Aikman's Column on Town

Quitman—Leo Aikman's column about Kingston, Ga., was read with great interest. Kingston is not only my birthplace, but my parents' also. My maternal and paternal relatives were early citizens of the town.

I have the edge on "Miss Virginia" as her folks were Yankees. My grandpa "fit" the entire period of the Civil War and my grandmother on the other side of the family tree refugeed from Atlanta when Sherman blazed through.

It is to my disappointment that Mr. Aikman gave no credit to one of Kingston's most devoted persons, who has worked diligently to keep alive the town's heritage. I refer to Miss Leila Darden, whose efforts made possible the memorial service each April and who cares for the graves of Confederate soldiers.

Defense Is More Important Than Balancing the Budget

Emory—All right, so Ike promised to balance the budget, reduce taxes and maintain a strong defense force and strong allies. Let's recognize those promises for what they were—political promises, which are proving well-nigh impossible for the GOP to keep.

This is not to say, let Ike off the hook because he painted a rosy picture in the wrong color. But in black and white reality we must remember, and remind the GOP that strong allies and a strong defense are more important than balanced budgets and tax reductions. JOHN SWIFT.

Dulles Has Lesson To Learn About Intervening in Foreign Elections

WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dulles has been widely taken to task for his interference in European election affairs. His most recent offense was the comment he made prior to the West German election in which he outspokenly warned the voters it would be "disastrous" for them to turn out the Adenauer government. Prior to that he was accused of intervening in the Italian elections. Some of the mildest criticism hurled at him has been that his action was "both surprising and regrettable," an opinion expressed by The Washington Evening Star, a conservative Republican publication. Others have carried the attack much further. Lucky for Dulles that Congress was not in session at the time or he would have heard much more of the matter. He was lucky also in having the German election turn out as it did, with a sweeping victory for Adenauer and his Christian Democrats who are favorable to our program in Western Europe.

If the election had gone differently or had even been close our Secretary of State would have been held to blame. In that case popular demands would have arisen for his removal. As it is, his offense apparently has been minimized by the results. Even so, Eisenhower was disturbed enough by the Dulles remarks to summon him for a conference on the subject.

In saying what he did about the West German elections Dulles was no doubt giving a straightforward answer to a question put to him at a press conference. It was no secret, of course, that our interests lay in a victory for the Christian Democrats and that we hoped they would win. But experience—often unhappy experience—dictates that it is unwise for us to intervene in foreign election affairs.

History has shown it is not even wise for an administration or a president to intervene in domestic politics. The voters too often resent such interference. The late President Roosevelt learned the bitter fruits of that lesson in his attempted purge campaign of 1938 when the three United States senators he sought to have eliminated in the elections of that year were returned by comfortable majorities.

Anything that smacks of interference in the domestic political affairs of another country is usually resented even more. We saw how that boomeranged several years ago when we sought to influence Argentine voters against Peron in an election there.

Naturally the opposition forces in Germany resented Dulles' conduct. If they had won the election instead of the Christian Democrats, it would have been much more difficult for us to deal with them, even though they were not sympathetic to the Communist cause.

Dulles will have to learn to restrain his tongue in dealing with foreign domestic political situations: Some day he may find himself backing the wrong horse and when that happens his usefulness will be destroyed. We can best appreciate the situation by imagining what our own reactions would be if some foreign government official tried to tell us how we should vote in a presidential election.

The Church Has Many Meanings

What is the church supposed to accomplish? What is its reason for existence? What are the tasks it performs? Though more people in America are going to church today than at any time in our history, many have only a vague idea of what the church really means to the world. So I would like to put before us for study seven great statements about the church. I am taking these from Bishop Arthur J. J. Moore's new book: "Immortal Tidings in Mortal Hands." The bishop is noted for the clear, sometimes startling, manner he expresses profound truths. He says:

(1) "In that period of human history now known as the "Dark Ages" it was the Christian Church that salvaged enough out of the roaring waters to provide foundations for a new civilization.

(2) "In spite of the perpetual pressure of materialistic interpretations of life, the Church has kept alive the sense of the supernatural . . . it has planted among the deepest convictions of mankind the belief that man came from God, that life has a purpose and a divine destiny.

(3) "Against the despots and tyrants who, by their totalitarian philosophies, have exalted the state and exploited man, the Church has gone on fighting for democracy and universal education.

(4) "Amid the swirling tides of lust and license the Church has stood like a rock of decency and purity.

(5) "While others preach a gospel of the survival of the fittest, the Church goes on proclaiming the ancient message of the revival of the unfit . . . The Bible speaks emphatically of man's plight but with equal certainty and conviction of Christ's power.

(6) "While men and nations in rampant selfishness are demanding their rights, the Christian Church continues to fill the earth with sacrificial ministers, devout laymen, unselfish doctors, nurses and teachers, who ask only for the privilege of serving their fellows. These do not say, 'The world owes me a living,' but 'I owe the world a life.' "

(7) "When this earthly life is finished and death appears, it is the Church, with its story of broken sepulcher and risen Lord, that puts a star of hope in the blackest night and sings a song of morning."

In this day of fear and frustration and turmoil, it is no wonder the people crowd the sanctuaries of the Church. We are not surprised that more young men and women than ever before are presenting themselves to the Church for full-time service. No other institution offers to human hearts the peace and the courage they find at the altars of the Church.

The wonder is that any person is content to remain outside the Church.

Making Molehills Out of Mountains

A reporter writing from Washington, D. C., seems to have the idea we'uns in Georgia are all flatlanders. What he said was, "Derned if the flatlanders ain't been turning out more moonshine than the mountaineers." Then he explains that by the Internal Revenue report the federals catch more stills, relatively speaking, in Florida, Georgia and North Carolina than they do in the "Mountain Dew" states of Tennessee and Kentucky. I am willing to write Florida off as flat. But I would like to carry that Washington writer fellow up around Franklin, N. C., or Chimney Rock and Caesars' Head, S. C., or Yonah Mountain in Georgia and see if he would know when he is in hill country.

On the level, the eternal revenuers continue to say they find more stills in Georgia than anywhere else. And the Forestry people say our state has more forest blazes. In other words, when it comes to making moonshine, we Georgians set the woods on fire.

SPEAKING OF BOTH, here is a letter from Bill Flynn, from his outpost at Greenville, saying, "We really have had some excitement. The state revenue officer raided a poor fellow who was trying to make an honest living. He confiscated about 300 gallons moonshine and brought it to town and cut it open with axes and poured it down the sewer with a wistful crowd looking on. You could hear such remarks as 'Ain't it a shame?' and 'There ought to be a law against such waste,' etc.

"When the last gallon was poured out, someone struck a match to it and a blaze of fire went thorugh the sewer ½ mile long into the R. R. cut. It looked like an oil well on fire. Chief Garrett turned in the fire alarm and advised everybody to flush their toilets to keep their house from burning up and sent out the Macedonian cry to come over and save the town.

"The blaze was finally brought under control with no material damage done and everything soon returned to normal. And no more carelessness with matches will be allowed."

Since Bill wrote in, he has been to the office to vouchsafe for the story. "It's the truth, so help me," declared the sage of Meriwether, but he quickly switched the subject to what's cookin' in politics.

Drew Begs To Be Excused

(Sports Editor Furman Bisher is on his annual tour of SEC football camps. This is another in his series of team previews. Next: Ole Miss).

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 11—Harold (Dragnet) Drew has uncovered a hideous plot of national scope to bootleg a football champion into Tuscaloosa. The brains of the gang is an evil monster named Grantland (The Finger) Rice, who earned his name by putting the finger on some football coach each year about this time. This year it was Drew.

In Look magazine, for which he does the finger job, Rice recently tapped Alabama for the national championship. Behind this act Drew sees the prejudices of Rice's breeding. The great sports writer was born in Tennessee, later trained in Atlanta. Even to get to the Southeastern Conference championship Drew must knock down, first, Tennessee, then Georgia Tech.

Bisher

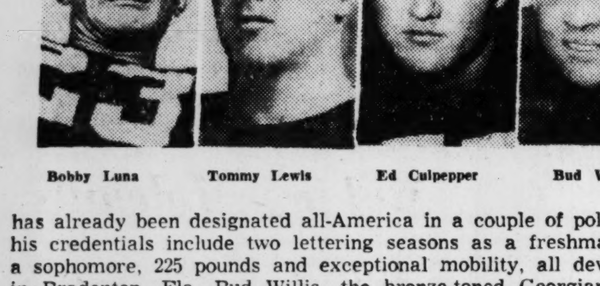

If Drew had his druthers, he'd quit while he was ahead. He already leads the nation in scoring this year—(61 points against Syracuse in the Orange Bowl incident New Year's Day). He's already national champion—(by Rice's measure). He has already played and whipped Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl—(courtesy of Francis Wallace in Collier's).

"These guys must get their dope in the barber shop," snorted Drew, whose Bates College training demands that he maintain his dignity and bearing.

A view of the Alabama squad on the practice field doesn't give much support to Drew and his debunking campaign. The man who named them Red Elephants would be proud of his foresight. They present probably the finest physical scenery around the conference.

Alabama can count among its blessings a backfield no less thrilling than Georgia Tech's, and perhaps a shade more so because of greater efficiency at quarterback. Kid Bart Starr, now a sophomore of poise, succeeds Clell Hobson with superior passing and equal running ability. Corky Tharp was campaigned out of all-SEC office last season only because Bobby Marlow had seniority on him. Bobby Luna is the other skittering halfback, and Drew himself proclaims Tommy Lewis, 195 and a shot-out-of-a-gun starter, the finest fullback he has had at Alabama.

Ralph Carrigan at center should give Larry Morris of Tech his stiffest battle for all-conference rights. Ed Culpepper at tackle has already been designated all-America in a couple of polls, and his credentials include two lettering seasons as a freshman and a sophomore, 225 pounds and exceptional mobility, all developed in Bradenton, Fla. Bud Willis, the bronze-toned Georgian from Tifton, was one of the better defensive ends in the league. He looks just as well on offense and could do the kicking, provided barefoot punting were allowed. All this, and he's the captain, too.

—Reverence for Those Gone Ahead

Things have not been running altogether smoothly for Drew. The military moved in and grabbed off Jerry Lambert, who would have been the left end, and Eddie Pharo, regular defensive halfback last season. Billy Shipp, 235-pound tackle, didn't come in. Finances and impending fatherhood grounded him. And they stand to lose more to the armed forces because of a new crackdown around the campus.

Drew, who can see potential disaster even in his Sept. 18 opener with Mississippi Southern, often bursts into tears at the roll call of last year's seniors. Marlow was a bull and a sprinter whose passing will demand more and more reverence as the season moves on. Both offensive ends, Joe Curtis and Hyrle Ivy graduated. So did two tackles, Travis Hunt and Van Marcus. So did two of the league's finest guards, Jerry Watford and Jess Richardson, and friend Fred Mims. O. E. Phillips, the offensive center, is now a high school coach. And besides Marlow, scratch Hobson, Bobby Wilson, the top kicker, Bob Conway and Bill Kilroy in the backfield.

That sounds ever so depressing. But you balance the picture with what's coming up for '53. Willis and Joe Cummings, the junior from Muleshoe, Texas, take over at ends, supported by three fine sophomores, Curt Lynch, Tommy Tillman and Nick Germanos. Lynch is Bama's finest prospect since Holt Rast.

Culpepper and George Mason, 205-pound junior, man the tackles, with Sid Youngleman (225), Jack Smalley (215) and Billy Williams (205), plus a corps of uprising sophomores. Bob Wilga and Harry Lee work at one guard and Charlie (Popeye) Eckerly and Jim Davis the other. Carrigan must hustle to retain center employment, for John Snoderly and Vince DeLaurentis, both lettered juniors, are on his heels.

The ends, then, should be improved, tackles as good as ever, guards a bit thin in experience and center as strong as a year ago.

—Another Sington Just Like Dad

If you're an alumnus who wants to make himself unhappy, you complain that there'll never be another Marlow, that nobody kicks like Wilson, that you don't win without guards and that Alabama is in danger there, and that there's no depth in the backfield.

You'll go along with the backfield debate. If Starr came down a victim, heaven knows where Drew would go for his quarterback.

Buster Hill, who weighs 155 carrying his school books, and Albert Elmore now run two and three. Neither can meet SEC standards yet.

The Tide command is still trying to make a place for Hootie Ingram, the local kid who led the nation in pass-stealing (10). He works behind Luna. Tharp's assistants are Bill Oliver, who could be first-string elsewhere, and Osbie Linvill, Bill Hollis and Troy Watford, all unlettered.

It wouldn't be proper to present the Alabama picture without a brief scene of two freshmen. The old folks will feel a little older when Fred Sington Jr. goes on the field. Junior is a tot of 235, further advanced now that his all-American dad was at this stage of his career. A guard from Yazoo City, Miss., is Cliff (Bo) Collins. Line coach Lew Bostick considers him the finest freshman guard Bama has had in 10 years. Under emergency circumstances each could play considerably this season and nobody would suffer but the enemy.

When it comes to a national championship, I'll subscribe to Drew's defense. The SEC will probably never produce a national champion as long as the 12 members persist in sectional assassination. It's impossible to perceive of any member coming out of this dogfight unscratched.

As for the conference pennant, it's a question of Drew and 11 other guys, especially Bobby Dodd. The one who wins in Birmingham Nov. 14 will have outcoached the other.

Dodd, incidentally, has replaced Bob Neyland on Bama's list of public enemies. As I walked away from the practice field at Tuscaloosa, one stout spectator hollered: "Tell Dodd we're ready for him this year."

This statement does not necessarily reflect the opinion of Harold (Red) Drew.

Vols Outbomb Crackers, 8-6

Sinovic's Homer in Vain As Visitors Lead Playoff, 2-1

By JESSE OUTLAR

A late Atlanta comeback, featuring Dick Sinovic's three-run homer in the eighth, was cut short by Pete Modica Friday night and Nashville cashed an 8-6 victory to take a 2-1 edge in the first-round Shaughnessy showdown.

Blanked for six innings by southpaw Dick Libby, the Crackers gave the Vols a scare and the Ponce de Leon Park crowd of 3,515 a thrill in the seventh and eighth.

But the Mauchmen could not overcome an eight-run handicap, which had resulted from ineffective hurling in the early stages.

They had a wonderful opportunity to pull it out in the eighth, after Sinovic blasted reliefer Modica's first pitch to the base of the scoreboard in left with none out. But Modica, one of the finest relief pitchers in Southern history, buckled down and made the 8-6 margin stand up.

The Vols looked like the club that led the Southern race most of the campaign when they tore into loser Bob Giggie for five runs in the first three rounds. They then added three markers off Leo Cristante and Libby was sitting on a soft 8-0 cushion as he wheeled into the seventh.

Roy Jarvis' single, doubles by Vern Petty and Charlie Williams and a pair of flies supplied three Atlanta runs in that inning.

Libby's support collapsed in the next stanza and the Crackers took advantage of it to get back into contention. Bob Mainzer, first up, was given a reprieve when Rube Novotney dropped his foul pop and then lived on Buster Boguskie's boot.

When Pete Whisenant followed with a hit through the middle, Manager Hugh Poland brought in Modica. Sinovic, who walloped 23 homers and drove in 126 runs in the regular season, promptly unloaded his 400-foot homer.

But Modica fanned Jarvis, got Petty on a pop and, after pinch-batter Jack Parks was safe on another Boguskie error, he retired Chuck Tanner on an inning-ending grounder. Pete put down the Crackers in order in the ninth.

Gail Harris, who smacked a homer, triple and single, started the Vol assault on Giggie by mauling his three-bagger with one out in the second. Bob Boring followed with an RBI fly, and Bob Lennon's single, a stolen base, and Novotney's hit to center made it 2-0.

Bill Taylor's scoring single and a two-run double by Lennon with two away increased the Vol bulge to 5-0 in the third. Giggie gave way to Cristante in that inning, and Leo was tagged for a homer by Harris in the fifth.

Four singles accounted for two more runs off Cristante in the Vol seventh, and when Jack Brittin came on to slam the door it was too late.

Either Art Fowler or Dick Donovan will hurl for the Crackers Saturday night. John Walsh is the likely Vol hurler.

Whitlow Wyatt, recovered from a touch of intestinal flu, was back in the Cracker coaching box Friday night.

Atlanta Journal Sports Editor Ed Danforth received a lifetime Southern Association pass from loop president Charlie Hurth in pre-game ceremonies at home plate. The award was made in recognition of Danforth's long tenure as a Southern sports editor.

Gray Slows Yankee Flag March, 3-2

Allie Reynolds Goes Route But Loses to Tigers in 10th

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(AP)—Lefty Ted Gray temporarily halted the New York Yankees' pennant march Friday as he pitched and batted the Detroit Tigers to a 10-inning 3-2 victory over the American League leaders.

The 28-year-old Gray scored the winning run in the extra frame after hitting a triple with one out. Harvey Kuenn followed with a long fly to center, delivering Gray with the tally.

Big Chief Allie Reynolds, prepping for a World Series start, went all the way for the Yankees. He limited the Tigers to seven hits, in pitching his first complete game since June 30. He struck out five, walked only one and hit a batter.

Trucks Raps Homer, Seals 19th of Year

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11—(AP).—Virgil Trucks helped seal his 19th victory Friday night with his first home run of the season and a single as the Chicago White Sox jumped off to an early lead and then coasted home 9-4 over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The peskiest batter on the A's side was Tommy Giordano, a rookie second baseman recently recalled from the A's Savannah, Ga., farm club.

After the rookie struck out in the second, he belted his first hit, a home run into the lower left field stands in the fourth. In the sixth he singled to help put a runner in scoring position.

Pillette Three-Hitter Stifles Williams, Sox

BOSTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Right-handed Duane Pillette handcuffed Ted Williams while pitching his lowly St. Louis Browns to a 2-0 shutout over the Boston Red Sox Friday with a brilliant three-hit performance.

Leadoff Billy Goodman got two of the Boston hits, clean singles in the third and ninth innings. The other hit charged against Pillette came when Sammy White beat out an eighth inning bunt. Pillette had only one strikeout but he did not yield a base on balls.

Lemon Denied Bid For 20th Victory

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Washington spoiled Bob Lemon's bid to become the first American League pitcher to win 20 games Friday night when the Senators splurged for three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Cleveland, 6-4.

The loss prevented the Indians from gaining on the front-running New York Yankees who lost to Detroit in the afternoon. The runner-up Indians trail by 10 games.

Cubs Trip Giants, Keep Streak Alive

Rush Limits Foe to Four Blows as Gomez Falters

CHICAGO, Sept. 11—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs Friday made the New York Giants their seventh straight victim, 5-2, matching their longest winning streak since 1946.

The Cubs combed three New York pitchers for 11 hits as big Bob Rush fashioned his ninth victory via a neat four-hitter—the Giants getting two hits for their final run in the ninth.

Ruben Gomez, who started and lasted only three innings, suffered his ninth loss as the Cubs scored all their runs during a three-run first and two-run third.

Ralph Kiner and Clyde McCullough wrapped productive singles around Randy Jackson's run-making fly in the first. Jackson teamed with Kiner to chase Gomez, a 13-game winner, after the third.

Kiner delivered a one-out triple to the deepest point in center field, and Jackson followed with a drive over the left-field screen for his No. 19 homer.

In pitching his best game since May 9, a three-hit shutout at Milwaukee, Rush watched the Giants double their hit-and-run total in the ninth. Al Dark doubled with two out, and scored on Dusty Rhodes' single to right.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Milwaukee Braves prolonged the National League pennant race at least one more day by edging the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers 9-8 tonight on Andy Pafko's 10th inning home run.

Had the Dodgers won they would have clinched the pennant.

Pafko's blast was his second of the night as he haunted his former club which sold him to the Braves during the winter.

Seixas, Trabert Down Canadians; Cooper's 67 Paces Eastern Open

Condensed From Wire Reports

Although both were hobbling at the finish with slight ankle sprains, both Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert were easy victors over Canadian foes in their opening American zone Davis Cup playoffs at Montreal Friday.

Trabert, the new United States champion, whipped Henri Rochon, 6-2, 6-3, 8-6, and Seixas, the Wimbledon titlist, swept past Lorne Main, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

Seixas and Trabert will team in the doubles Saturday against Main and 23-year-old Paul Willey. A doubles victory would clinch the match for the United States.

Pete Cooper fired a 67 at Baltimore to take the second-round lead in the Eastern Open with a 137. He had a one-stroke lead over Otto Greiner. Ralph Lomeli, who led after the first round with a 66, cooled off for a 72 and tie for seventh.

Maryland coach Jim Tatum was released from the hospital after removal of a kidney stone, but will not be able to resume work with the team for an indeterminate period.

Negro pitcher Jim Tugerson's suit against the Cotton States League charging that his civil rights had been abrogated by an agreement that kept him from playing with Hot Springs, Ark., was dismissed in U. S. District Court. No ruling was made on another suit in which Tugerson said the agreement forced Hot Springs to break its contract with him.

German heavyweight Hein Ten Hoff has claimed he can't get fights in the United States. New York boxing commissioner Robert K. Christenberry replied, "He's interested only in fighting the unburied dead." He said he knew Ten Hoff had been offered fights with at least two well-known heavyweights thus far but has faced only four third-raters.

Rocky Castellani meets Johnny Lombardo in a 10-round middleweight fight at Chicago Saturday. It will be nationally televised.

Roland La Starza's manager, Jimmy DeAngelo, stricken with a heart attack several weeks ago, watched his heavyweight challenger work out for the first time. DeAngelo said his tiger was "boxing well."

Paul Fagan, millionaire owner of the San Francisco Seals, said his Pacific Coast League club might be put up for sale sometime in the future, but he had no plans to do so at the moment.

Gene Littler shot a five-under 66 at Oklahoma City, top practice round of the day among competitors getting ready for the U. S. Amateur next week. Charley Coe had a 68.

Thornton's Freak Dazes Smith, 12-6

Columbus Back Carries Own Team's Kickoff to TD

By TOM BROWN

An unbelieving band of Smith High Smithies just stood and stared as Columbus' sometime-halfback-sometime-quarterback Billy Thornton snuggled one of the Blue Devils' own kickoffs close to his chest and fled 30 yards to the touchdown Friday that beat Smith, 12-6.

The kickoff fiasco came about this way:

Columbus had just scored a third-quarter touchdown to tie up the game. Bobby Floyd then kicked off to Smith, but before a Smithie could touch the ball, Thornton had batted it around all the way from the 40 to the 30, finally grabbing it and going the rest of the way to score. After a consultation among the officials, it was scored touchdown Blue Devils.

Thornton's TD came just 10 playing seconds after mate Marshall Dodds had climaxed a 43-yard march to goal with a 10-yard smash off tackle. Dodds almost singlehandedly pulled off the march, which required but six plays to execute. Dodds carried on four of those six and gained all but seven of the yards.

Smith scored first as quarterback Billy Hall ran far out to his right on a fake quarter-keep play and lofted a 31-yard scorer to Delano Brannon. Hall had set up the first period score with a 19-yard pass to Melvin Ferguson earlier.

Thornton was subbing for Columbus quarterback Eddie Spear out with a strep throat. Most of Columbus' ragged first-half offensive efforts attested highly to Spear's absence. The Blue Devils stuck close to the ground all night trying but five passes, completing none.

Their running game paid off handsomely, however. The Blue Devils rolled for 238 yards overland and were resting on the Smithie five-yard line when it was all over.

Rudin Spurs Fulton Over Athens, 6-0

Rudin plunged over on a quarterback sneak with five minutes remaining in the game. The score was set up by guard Vernon Cunard's recovery of a fumble by Athens halfback John (Squeaky) Simpson on the Trojan four-yard line. It took Rudin two tries before crossing the double stripes. Cunard's try for the extra point was wide.

Except for this break the 3-AA Fulton eleven and the 4-A Athens squad played evenly.

The Trojans seriously threatened only once. In the closing minutes of the first half, Simpson returned a Fred Murphy kick 60 yards before Murphy stopped on the Fulton 17. From there Simpson, Bobby Towns and Don Carnes carried to the four, where the Redbirds put up a terrific stand. The ball went over on downs.

Fulton's Cunard was the outstanding lineman of the game.

MARIETTA'S CHARLES ANDERSON (75) GOES FOR 10 AGAINST ROSSVILLE

Rossville Extended By Marietta, 18-7

Special to The Constitution

MARIETTA, Sept. 11—Rossville, touted as one of the powers of Region 4-AA, had to go all out against a young Marietta club Friday night before gaining an 18-7 victory.

Rossville, which played Cedartown to a scoreless tie last week, didn't have the game completely sewed up until the final quarter when Coach Glenn Wade's Bulldogs pushed across the final insurance marker.

Bernard (Stumpy) Nolen emerged as the star for Rossville, the fleet halfback going wild as he hadn't been able to on the wet ground against Cedartown.

He scored two of Rossville's touchdowns and gained 150 of the Bulldogs' 260 yards on the ground.

He put Rossville into the lead with less than five minutes gone when he pulled in Jimmy Reid's punt and dashed 65 yards down the sidelines for the score.

The Bulldogs added another six points in the second period when Norman Williams and Fred Thurston sparked a drive from midfield, Thurston diving over from the one.

Nolen closed out the Rossville scoring in the final period when he capped a drive that started on the Bulldogs' 30 with a 37-yard scoring gallop.

Frank Hardin scored Marietta's only touchdown on a 12-yard pass from Gene Suggs. Gene Vickers had recovered a Rossville fumble on the Bulldogs' 39 to set up the score.

Dale Westbrook, Hoyt Jenkins, Bill Anderson and Joe Holsenback all starred in the line for Rossville.

Marietta, playing its first game of the season, didn't fare too badly statistically. The Blue Devils of Coach Red Pressley had six first downs to nine for Rossville and were outrushed by only 260 yards to 213. Eighty-five yards in penalties hurt Rossville, Marietta only being called for one five-yarder.

Griffin Staves Off Irish Rally, 21-20

By JIMMY WALKER
Constitution Sports Writer

GRIFFIN, Sept. 11—Griffin's pony halfbacks thrashed through O'Keefe's tackle slot almost at will Friday night, but only a sliced placekick in the second quarter gave the Eagles a 21-20 victory before a record home crowd of more than 6,000.

Fullback Jimmy Shaw's kick was wide after O'Keefe fought back from a 14-0 deficit. Coach Kimsey Stewart's refurbished squad held to a 14-13 lead and went after its second one-point victory.

Griffin scored twice in the first eight minutes. It started when 235-pound tackle Wayne Hall recovered a fumble on the O'Keefe 20. Charlie Byars shot a 14-yard TD pass to halfback Ronald Kelley in the left flat. Len Banks converted the first of three placekicks.

The Eagles scored again on a 42-yard drive featuring Kelley's 16-yard sprint. He scored from the one.

As the Irish line grew more aggressive, O'Keefe plays clicked in the second quarter. A quick kick by Shaw put the Eagles back on their one. Russell Buffington kicked out to Irish left half Don Brown who picked up helpful interference and hauled it back to score.

Third-string halfback Richard Duncan carried 35 yards minutes later for the second O'Keefe tally. Shaw's kick went wide.

Griffin scored a final tally in the fourth on a 60-yard march. Halfback Tommy Gresham and Billy Peeples pierced the O'Keefe line regularly to carry the brunt of the final attack. Peeples scored from the eight.

The Irish pulled within a point three minutes from the end when Robert Haygood dashed 80 yards on a punt return.

The Eagles mixed split-T and double-wing plays with devastating accuracy inside the 20. Peeples, Gresham, Bobby Webb and Tom Simonton all posed running threats.

Griffin guard Dan Slade led the Eagle defense. He broke up one Irish drive with a tackle at the four.

For the Irish, end Franklin Ellis and 145-pound guard Ronald Wallace led tacklers.

Hapeville Humbles Forest Park

By HENRY HAYES

A Forest Park eleven, crippled by penalties and stymied by a tight pass defense, met defeat at the hands of a heavier Hapeville team which pressed its every advantage to put the game on ice in the second quarter with a 20-0 contest at Hapeville.

After standing off a Forest Park drive at the 10 the Hornets struck back. Ed Pierce recovered the fumble that stopped the Forest Park attack, as Hugh Brown and Gerald Mays carried the ball to the 41 in three plays. Then Pruitt pitched out to Bobby Wofford on the longest run of the evening. Running around left end behind excellent blocking, he pranced the 59 yards to break the ice.

Simerville, Knox Lead Northside in 51-13 Rout

By GEORGE VANCE

A fast-stepping fullback named Lester Simerville and a deft handoff artist, quarterback Paul Knox, led the Northside Tigers to a 51-13 trouncing over an outclassed Druid Hills Red Devil eleven in a nonregional game Friday night at Grady Stadium.

The Tiger combo accounted for most of Northside's 326-yard rushing total as Druid Hills Cocaptain Bobby Friedland tried in vain to overcome the Tiger strength with passes—76 yards of them paid off.

Friedland took to the air early in the first half with passes to Tim Singleton, the Red Devils' outstanding back on both offense and defense, but only one reached pay dirt. Friedland himself took the other Druid Hills tally on a quarterback sneak.

Northside set up at least four of its touchdowns by intercepting Red Devil passes. Soon after Knox scored the first touchdown on a sneak from the Druid Hill five, Tiger center Bill Hornebuckle snagged a Red Devil pass at the enemy 32, paving the way for a handoff—this time from Knox to Cocaptain R. K. Brown for the second tally.

In the second quarter, Knox passed to Brown for another TD from the Druid Hills 39, the Tigers' only successful aerial of the night. Northside's other captain, Dwight Horton, returned a punt from his own 40 for still another tally. Gordon Becker intercepted a Friedland pass in the fourth period for pay dirt.

Brown fell on the ball in the end zone after Simerville had fumbled at the five for another score and David Broadbear over for the final Northside tally in the closing minutes.

Besides Friedland and Singleton, outstanding Druid Hills performers were Herbert Porter, who made one 52-yard sprint to Northside territory; Lewis Stanley, Bruce White, Mike Baucom, Garland Duke and Tommy Ball.

Luke and Bert Parks, Mike Thomas, Sam Fowlkes, David Black and Paul Erkman helped tote the Northside's load.

Poets Turn Fumble Into 6-0 Victory

Brown's Attack Bogs Down As TD Opportunity Knocks

By JIMMY MANN
Constitution Sports Writer

MACON, Sept. 11—Lanier High's Poets were the opportunists Friday night as they took advantage of a Brown High fumble in the third quarter and rolled hard-hitting Billy Kitchens into the end zone for a 6-0 victory before 8,000 fans.

Lanier, Region 1-AA runners-up last season, tried the Santa Claus act themselves during the hectic first half, but Brown could not take advantage.

The first Lanier break came with the opening kickoff. Ken Statham fell on the loose pigskin on the Rebels' 27. With three cracks at the line, Kitchens, Sam Vickers, and Johnny Stallings were set back to the 38. Vickers kicked into the end zone.

Yardstick

Brown, paced by Dickie Bell and Billy Berry, used three plays for seven yards, and was forced to punt to the Lanier 35.

After Kitchens had reeled off the initial first down of the game to the 47, Stallings took a Vickers handoff and fumbled his way around right end. Leon Askew finally stopped the play when he fell on the ball on the Poets' 36.

Brown had life for one play. Bell, on an attempted sneak through guard, fumbled to Theron Sapp on the 39. Three Lanier tries failed. Vickers kicked to the Brown 14. Bogie Kuykendall carried on successive downs for a first down on the 24. Berry and Don Martin moved to the 30.

On a third down that was called back twice, Bell bolted through to a first down on the Brown 40 to end the opening quarter.

Bell opened the second period with the third of nine Brown fumbles. Poet W. D. (Tugboat) Watson fell on the ball.

Jimmy Crenshaw, who shared Lanier's running spotlight with Kitchens, reeled off the longest run of the night as he hauled the mail to the Brown six.

The play was called back to the 30 by a clipping penalty. Two line plays failed, and Vickers fumbled on third down, Joe Walls recovering for the Atlantans. The first half ended with neither team able to muster enough drive to carry past the enemy 30.

Stallings took Brown's second-half kickoff and threaded from his 15 to the 39. It was the first of a series of plays which netted the only TD of the game. Lanier lost the ball for one down, after driving to the Rebs' 46, stalled, and Vickers dumped his boot in the end zone.

Bell was hit on the first Brown play of the second half, fumbled and minute-man Watson recovered for Lanier on the 16.

Kitchens moved to the 14, setting up the play of the night featuring an accidental delayed pitchout from Vickers to Kitchens. Vickers took the ball from center, dropped it, scooped it up and basket-balled it out to Kitchens, who was practically at the line of scrimmage. The play moved the oval to the Brown five.

Kitchens, carrying for the third straight time, battled to the four. On his fourth try he rounded left end for the game's only tally. Billups Johnson missed his try for the PAT.

Barons Bomb Memphis, 4-1

BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 11—(AP)—Birmingham belted Memphis' masterful Dick Strahs for a 4-1 victory Friday night and a 2-1 lead over the pennant winners in the Southern Association playoffs.

Strahs, with a record of 16-8, gave up all the runs scored by the Barons in their second straight triumph.

Baron hurler Emil Patrick kept the Chicks under control. When they loaded the bases in the fifth inning with two men out, he fanned dangerous Bill Wilson to retire the side.

Avondalers Sweep Past Tucker High

By BILL HIBBERT

Avondale High's Mister Inside-Mister Outside combination of fullback Royce Hardy and halfback Tom Catron spelled the 12-0 downfall of neighboring Tucker Friday night on the winners' field.

Quarterback Cotton Flanigan used Hardy wholesale. The 185-pound back took the handoff 15 times and gained 71 yards—almost two-thirds of the Blue Devils' yards rushing.

But for the big money, Catron was the boy. He scored the first Blue Devil touchdown from eight yards out early in the second quarter and set up the other tally with a beautiful catch of a Flanigan pass in the flat, racing down the left sidelines from the 15 to the one.

Catron, who weighs only 135 pounds and has another year to play, carried the ball only four times eating up 35 yards.

Gene Thompson took the ball on an end-around to score the final touchdown in the last quarter. However, Blue Devil mentors think that Thompson was the best defensive player of the game.

"He threw Tucker backs for several large losses," Howard states, "and he saved us a couple of times from being scored upon."

Tucker had its exciting moments, but the Tigers waited until it was too late. They had marched 72 yards to the Devils' eight-yard line when the final gun went off, and they started a small drive late in the third quarter.

Lawrence Crawford, a 170-pound fullback, and halfback Jimmy Sexton proved the driving power for the Tigers, once Sexton romping for 48 yards. Center John Nix was the outstanding defensive player for Tucker.

Georgia Tech will play a 21-game basketball schedule this fall and winter. Nine games are at home and 17 are against Southeastern Conference opposition.

The schedule was released Friday by Athletic Director Bobby Dodd and Basketball Coach Whack Hyder.

Tech opens against South Carolina in Columbia on Dec. 5 and closes against Florida in Gainesville, Fla., on March 1.

First home game is against Vanderbilt, Jan. 11.

There is only one new opponent on the schedule. The Jackets meet Murray State College for the first time on Jan. 25 in Murray, Ky.

The team also will play in the Gator Bowl tournament at Jacksonville Dec. 28-29-30.

Tech had a 5-17 record last year. Chief loss is Pete Silas, who played out his college string with more than 1,000 points and now graduates to the Phillips 66 Oilers.

For 1953-54, Hyder counts upon a predominantly sophomore lineup. It will include forwards Bill Cohen and Lake Kelly, center Dick Lenholt and guards Howard Snead and Johnny Harwell. Captain-elect Harwell is a senior, Snead a junior.

Big help is expected from freshman Wade Mitchell, former North Fulton ace now occupied with football.

Practice opens Oct. 15.

Newton Rolls Over DeKalb

Special to The Constitution

COVINGTON, Sept. 11—Jimmy Laster's 55-yard burst off tackle in the final period lifted Newton County of Covington to a 14-12 victory over Southwest DeKalb High Friday night.

Jim Rogers' Newtonians stepped out front in the initial quarter as Laster, starting at his 45, packed the mail five straight times, cracked over from the one.

Southwest fought back, racked up six points in the third stanza on Gilbert Miller's 20-yard pass theft and runback. The visitors' final score was recorded in the last period by hammering Mike Duke on a 10-yard drive.

Newton standouts included end W. L. Knight and fullback Joe Parr Davis. Duke was the big Southwest gun, aided by right-half Herbie Entrekin.

Lindner, Harper Rated Favorites at Carrollton

By BERT PRATHER
Constitution Sports Writer

CARROLLTON, Sept. 11—State Open champion Henry Lindner of Augusta and Southeastern Open king Charlie Harper of Ft. Benning are generally regarded as the men to beat on the eve of the first annual $1,500 Little Masters golf tournament which kicks off here Saturday morning at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Twenty-seven holes will be played Saturday and final 27 in this 54-hole medal event will be contested Sunday.

The event has drawn a field of 39 professionals and 11 amateurs from Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Tennessee.

Lindner and Harper are rated top choices off their one-two finish in the State over the tough Augusta Country Club two weeks ago, but they by no means are sure bets here.

Such out-of-state aces as Scuddy Horner of Montgomery, Ala.; Harold Williams of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Otey Crisman, Selma, Ala., and Tommy Wright of Kingsport, could easily grab first pro money.

And, of course, Atlanta City Open champion Aaron Jackson swings a steady club as does Elmer Reed, Charlie Miller, Bill Barker and Harold Sargent, all of Atlanta. State PGA champion Broyles Plemmons from Valdosta is still another who has designs on the first-place playoff.

As for the amateurs, Southeastern titlist Doug Sanders of Cedartown; James Stamps and Lester Kelly of Atlanta and Wilkins Kirby Jr. of Newnan should be the top placers. It wouldn't be too big a surprise to see one of them lead the entire field.

Wimberley's Injury Has Butts Worried

Bratkowski Passing Easily, Back Seems Good as New

By EDDIE DAVIDSON
Special to The Constitution

ATHENS, Sept. 11—Coach Wally Butts Friday termed his guard situation "precarious," considering the Bulldog opener against powerful Villanova is only a week away.

The main reason for Butts' worry is the doubtful participation of senior Bruce Wimberly, the No. 1 left guard. Wimberly has been out several days because of a strained back muscle, which is not healing fast enough.

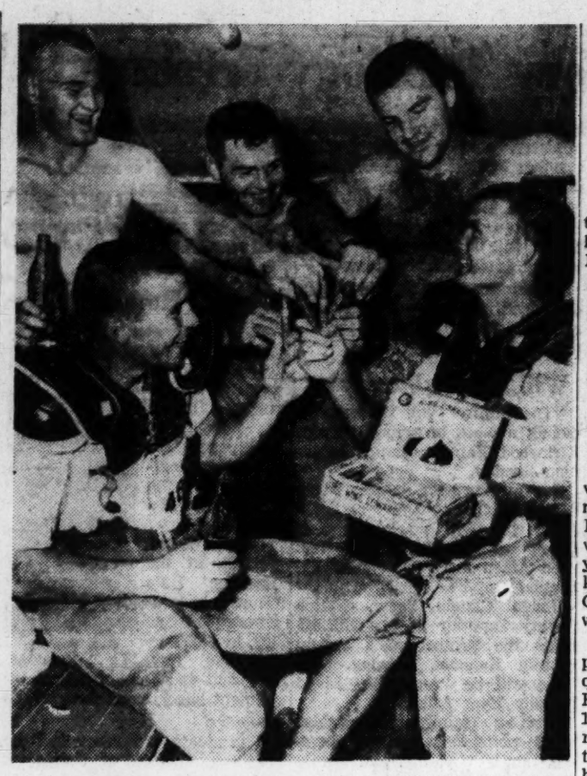

Butts is grooming regular right guard Sam Mvros to start in place of Wimberly if the Quincy, Fla., 185-pounder is not ready by next Saturday night.

That move would make sophomore Don Shea of Philadelphia inherit the starting right guard berth. The 5-11, 205-pound Shea is developing satisfactorily, according to guard coach Harry Wright.

BULLDOG BITS: The Bulldogs held the last of two-a-day drills Friday with the usual light workout in the morning and a scrimmage session during the afternoon. . . . Quarterback Zeke Bratkowski worked as if he had never strained his back. He was sharp as usual on his passing. Coach Butts had the varsity spend the entire afternoon on defense. Junior halfback Charlie Madison, junior fullback Bob Clemons and sophomore center Fred Nutt, returning to action for the first time in a week, turned in the most impresive performances. . . . Still sidelined with injuries besides Wimberly were sophomore halfbacks Jimmy Williams of Athens, and Bobby Chambless of Columbus.

Counts, Fuller Lead Murphy and Decatur

tire season in almost single-handedly accounting for two Murphy touchdowns.

But these Decaturies, whose only loss on their home field in the last six years was a 7-6 verdict by Griffin in 1948, were bent on preserving that proud record. They did it the hard way, by coming from behind just as Murphy had done earlier.

Quarterback Earl Fuller, who was a sore-thumb stickout all night, exploded Decatur into the lead late in the first quarter with a dazzling, weaving, 70-yard punt return. Jere Landers kicked the seventh point with Charlie Maynard holding, and it was still 7-0 at halftime.

Counts turned the tide Murphy's way midway the third quarter by intercepting a Billy Bob Redford pass, returning it 11 yards and, on the next play, romping 31 yards to the Decatur three-yard line. Melvin Sorrow battered across from there, and Jim Garner booted the tying point as Sorrow held.

Counts sent Decatur reeling with an 84-yard scoring run later in the period after George Walker and Baby Tidwell pounced upon an enemy bobble and Hal Davis had bashed six yards. Again, Garner kicked true for a 14-7 Murphy adavantage.

The Bulldogs left it that way only until the second play after the subsequent kickoff. Maynard whipped a pass to Redford at the Decatur 35 and he outran many pursuing Eagles for the remainder of an 84-yard TD play. Landers' toe made it 14-14. There it stayed.

Murphy outgained the defending Region 4-AA champs, 303 yards to 167. Most of that was by Counts, Davis and Rema Martin, whose great blocking sprung Counts on his second scoring jaunt.

Top plaudits must be reserved, though, for guard Jim Garner, a mere 150 pounder. He made more tackles than any man on the field. He batted down half a dozen passes. He intercepted two passes and kicked two extra points.

Fuller, Maynard and Redford put on the offensive fireworks for heavily outweighed Decatur, but again it was a smallish guard who stole the show.

Walter Fountain, a 160 pounder was great on defense along with Dan Logue and Ed Crawford and he recovered a Murphy fumble at the Decatur eight as the Eagles threatened to win with a fourth quarter surge.

Fuller and Jack Kenneth Kebb filched errant Murphy passes for Decatur also, and Logue snatched up a Murphy fumble.

Coach Frank Jones, running a 101-degree temperature, got out of a flu bed for the first time in four days to direct Decatur. He was well repaid with a moral victory.

FAIRBURN, Sept. 11—Ray Carroll's 20-yard jump pass to big Leonard Moen in the last quarter brought Campbell High of Fairburn a 6-0 triumph over Chamblee Friday night.

Both teams' offenses showed the early-season sputtering, with the winners out first-downing Chamblee, 7-6, and outrushing them, 82-51. Top defensive men for the losers were Eugene Troglin, Alex Chestnutt and Bobby Pugh.

Phil Heisler Whole Show As Bass Bounces Rome

Special to The Constitution

ROME, Sept. 11—Diminutive speedster Phil Heisler stole the show Friday night as his Bass High Blue Wave from Atlanta plastered a 19-0 haymaker on Rome's Hilltoppers in an interregion Class AA football contest.

The 135-pounder hauled in a Gene Reeves pass and scampered 55 yards downfield for the Wave's initial touchdown. Then, on the first play from scrimmage in the third quarter, he broke loose on Bass' 27-yard line and took off goalward with the entire Rome team strung out behind him. Splendid blocking by Blue Wavers took out all defenders except Hilltopper B. L. Seagraves, himself a track star. Seagraves followed in hot pursuit but failed by several yards to overtake Heisler.

The Bass mite then stepped up and booted the conversion point.

The visitors' other TD came in the final frame on a freak goal-line play. Reeves tossed a flat pass over the line that Max Locklear attempted to bat down. Instead, the Rome back deflected the pigskin into the air and into the arms of Bass end Gilbert Radovich, who stepped over the goal for the touchdown.

Rome's only serious scoring bid came in the second quarter. The 'Toppers drove to the one, but a fourth-down center plunge was met by the entire Bass forward wall and thrown back.

Brightest light in a dismal evening for the homelings was the brilliant faking and ball-handling of quarterback Bob Griffin, lone veteran from 1952.

Lost fumbles and intercepted passes—six of the former and three of the latter—ruined virtually every Rome thrust.

'FINE TACKLER'

Improving Hardeman Boosts Tech Defense

By EDWIN POPE

The man Bobby Dodd calls the finest running back in Southeastern football history has won his spurs on defense.

That would be Leon Hardeman. The sawed-off piledriver (5-6, 172) was all-America offensive halfback last year. Dodd's verdict on Hardeman's defensive future:

"He'll be better than average in this league."

Thus at least one man-sized source of worry is removed from a camp where all does not proceed too smoothly.

"Muggsy's a fine tackler," said defensive backfield coach Lew Woodruff during Friday's mild workout. "And he'll be okay on pass defense despite his height, or lack of it. Jakie Rudolph, who was only 5-7, proved you don't have to be a tall guy to play pass defense. It just takes speed and good reflexes and Muggsy's got both of those. I'd say he's made the changeover to defense better than any other of our deep defense."

That deep secondary also will contain Bill Teas and Pepper Rodgers.

Teas, Andrews, N. C., junior, has not been an outstanding tackler but his tremendous speed and running talent will keep foes leary of throwing the ball in his zone.

Rodgers is not fast but is quick enough for all the right moves.

"What's so encouraging about the secondary," Dodd said, "is that we have at least two people—Hardeman and Teas—who can turn interceptions into touchdowns."

Best backing for that is cold statistics. Hardeman has scored 17 touchdowns for an all-time Tech career high. The Lafayette, senior battered out a 5.5-yard average and 700 yards over-all last season. And he was hurt part of the time.

Teas racked 741 yards for a 5.3-yard average.

"Of course, our pass defense won't be in a class with last year's," Dodd said. "We still aren't working well as a team. But we believe that before the thing's over with, we'll have enough protection what with Hardeman, Teas and Rodgers away back there and Larry Morris and Glenn Turner as linebackers."

Friday's sweat-soaked session was a prelude to the weekly highlight—Saturday's 4 p. m. gamescrimmage.

. . . Coach Bob Bossons marvels at the fire and ferocity of his B-teamers. "Most places, you put a guy on the scrubs, he feels like it's no use. Out here, they really buckle down and play inspired football." . . . The B-teamers are running Tech plays against the varsity. There's a dual purpose: Tech plays are almost identically those of Florida—the Jacket foe on Sept. 26—and close enough to those of Davidson—which plays here Sept. 19—to sharpen the defence for both opponents. . . . Friday's varsity additions: Atlanta soph halfback Mot Jon Morrison, Roanoke, Va., freshman halfback Paul Rotenberry.

THE BRIEFCASE: Teas became a father Friday. His wife, the former Virginia Hall of Atlanta, gave birth to a seven-pound 10-ounce girl in Piedmont Hospital just two hours before practice time. Little Miss Teas will travel under the name of Anne Elizabeth. . . . Dodd is moaning low about the physical condition of his ends. Three—juniors Jimmy Durham, Henry Hair and Buddy Jones—are on the sidelines with injuries. Seniors Bill Sennett and Dave Davis cannot go full speed in scrimmage.

McIntyre, Rogers Draw

The Buddy Rogers-Don McIntyre wrestling match ended in a draw after 24 minutes Friday night at the Municipal Auditorium when both men were kayoed and counted out.

Rogers was put to sleep in the ring by McIntyre and the latter was bumped out of action in a spill from the ring in the melee.

In other matches, Johnny Harmon beat Jackie Fargo in 15 minutes; Johnny Valentine won over Tarzan Hewitt in 12, and the Swedish Angel pinned Ramon Cernados with a "sleeper" hold in seven minutes.

Lucy Wood, U. S. Settle Tax Claim

Cafeteria Owner Pays Final $1,200

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Miss Lucy Ann Wood, operator of a cafeteria at 64 Marietta St., N. W., Atlanta, finally has settled a federal income tax claim.

Records of the Internal Revenue Service show that she was assessed a total of $147,758.01 in back taxes, interest and penalties for 1943-47.

The records show also that she pleaded guilty to income tax evasion for the year 1944 and was fined $3,000 and placed on probation for three years.

PAID $75,490.86

They show furthermore that she made numerous efforts to pay the tax bill and that she did pay or have credited to her account a total of $75,490.86.

The revenue service, in accepting a $1,200 compromise for the remainder, said Miss Wood's business had dropped off and it was doubtful whether it could ever realize more than the amount offered.

Miss Wood's tax troubles began in the war years when her business flourished due to the large number of government employees working in nearby office buildings.

She had a "penchant" for antique furniture and bric-a-brac during the periods her business prospered, the revenue service said in its report.

$80,000 IN ANTIQUES

She invested, the report said, $80,000 in antiques and "such an amount was greatly in excess of what the antiques could be sold for."

Largely as a result of these transactions, the report stated, "Miss Wood was unable to fully satisfy the federal tax claims against her."

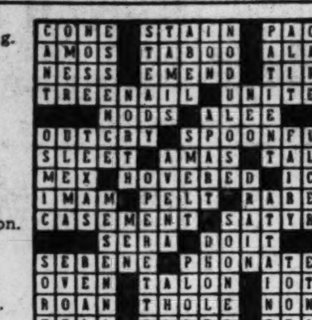

The report said she later sold her antiques for $27,500 and applied the amount to her tax bill."

She also sold some rental property and a Clayton County farm to apply to the account, according to the report.

A Rhyme a Day

"Admitting that he had 'put it off too long,' 90-year-old man joins church."—News item.

Whatever good a man can do . . . he ought to start it quickly . . . to cheer up people who are blue . . . and help the weak and sickly . . . "The Bird of Time Is on the Wing" . . . (I quote from Omar Khayam) . . . and that's a disconcerting thing . . . for folks as old as I am.

When one is young, he doesn't think . . . that life can have an ending . . . he's occupied with fun and drink . . . with women and with spending . . . but when he's old and broken down . . . and done with dissipation . . . he thinks about that starry crown . . . and dreams of his salvation.

You think of this, and you begin . . . to have a faint suspicion . . . that's why this world of ours is in . . . its terrible conditon . . . all must plead gulty to the charge . . . of some procrastination . . . admitting that we don't enlarge . . . the Sunday congregation.

Some people don't know right from wrong . . . but if the doctor told them . . . they wouldn't be here very long . . . the churches couldn't hold them.

Sales Spurt Puts Stocks At New Low

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(AP)—A sharp burst of selling hit the stock market hard today and sent it down to a new low for the year.

Aside from one peak of selling, trading moved along in a steady manner throughout the session.

Losses ran to between 1 and 3 points in a great many cases. Some stocks dropped as much as 5 points at various times during the day.

Railroads were under pressure along with motors, steels and most other sections of the market. A few steady areas appeared, particularly in radio-televisions and building materials.

Brokers felt that the current market moves are part of the readjustment to the slower business pace for the country expected by Wall Street later this year and next.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks today declined $1.50 at $101.30, a new 1953 low and the lowest level since early May of last year.

Lint Futures Trade Slow

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(AP)—Cotton futures closed unchanged to 40 cents a bale lower, except nearby October which was up 15 cents a bale today. Profit-taking, following a moderate rally on Thursday, coupled with hedge selling, discouraged rallying tendencies.

A sharp decline in securities also created caution among traders, with buying orders mostly scale down in nature.

Parking Problems To Be Explored

Mayor Hartsfield, president of the American Municipal Association, Friday named an 11-man nation-wide committee of mayors and engineers to help solve parking problems in cities.

John D. McGillis, director of the Detroit Municipal Parking Authority, will serve as chairman, Hartsfield announced.

Other committee members are Mayor William F. Brown Jr. of Ann Arbor, Mich.; O. D. Buckles, Chicago corporation counsel; L. P. Cookingham, city manager of Kansas City; Mayor H. H. Dees, Atmore, Ala.; Mayor Allen Denny, Des Moines, Iowa; Frederick M. Galloway, city engineer, Montclair, N. J.; Mayor Edwin G. Michaelian, White Plains, N. Y.; Col. John H. McGillis already has accepted and has informed Hartsfield he will confer next week with Carl H. Chatters, executive director of AMA. Following that conference, Gillis said he will apportion studies to subcommittees so that the whole field will be covered.

Hartsfield said the committee will have access to studies already made by various organizations and foundations and that it will have substantial backing from foundations who have promised to support it.

"We anticpate that every phase of parking will be explored and are confident t the most reasonable solution will be attempted of the common problem besetting every populous area of the country," Hartsfield added.

"While we hope we can make some progress before the annual AMA convention set for Nov. 30-Dec. 2 at New Orleans, the committee will hold over to complete its studies. We anticpate that several months at least will be required to complete the task," Hartsfield said.

Allen Quits Junaluska; Fowler In

The executive committee of the board of trustees of the Lake Junaluska, N. C., Methodist Assembly Friday accepted "with a great deal of regret" the resignation of Dr. H. G. Allen as superintendent.

The committee named the Rev. James W. Fowler Jr., pastor of the First Methodist Church of Forest City, N. C., as Dr. Allen's successor.

Edwin L. Jones of Charlotte, chairman of the board, reported the two actions were unanimously approved by the committee in session here.

Dr. Allen's wish to return to the ministry was given as the reason for his resignation. He is a member of the Western North Carolina Conference which has its annual session Sept. 22-27 at High Point.

The committee praised his work at Lake Junaluska during his three years as superintendent. They particularly noted program expansions and erection of new structures.

The Rev. Mr. Fowler, also a member of the Western North Carolina Conference, must get conference approval before taking over the position. He also must be appointed by presiding Bishop Costen J. Harrell.

A native of Monroe, N. C., Fowler attended Wingate Junior College, Duke University and Emory University. An annual conference member since 1938, he has served pastorates at Spruce Pines and since 1949, at Forest City.

Members of the executive committee of the board of trustees present included: Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Atlanta; Bishop Harrell, Charlotte; William N. Banks, Grantville, Ga.; Dr. Elmer T. Clark and Adm. William N. Thomas, Lake Junaluska; Hugh Massie, Waynesville, N. C.; Dr. M. R. Mobley, Florence, S. C., and E. L. Turnley, Nashville, Tenn.

'Truman Hall' Stumps GOP Visitor in Berlin

BERLIN, Sept. 11—(INS)—Republican congressmen visiting Berlin's post exchange registered shock when they saw the large sign on the front:

"Truman Hall."

"As if that weren't bad enough," said one representative, "inside the entrance hall you have to walk under a portrait of Harry Truman."

Republican Congressman Kenneth Keating of Rochester, N. Y., told International News Service:

"The American people repudiated Truman last November. It's about time the people here realize there's been a change of administration."

17 Rural Communities Honored in N. Georgia

By JACK GILCHRIST
Constitution Farm Editor

Seventeen rural communities received certificates of progress and 70 communities received seals of achievement here Friday as county agricultural workers and community leaders from 39 counties gathered here for an area community development council meeting.

All of those attending as guests of the Farmers Club of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce were representatives of rural communities participating in the north Georgia Rural Community Improvement contest sponsored annually by the Farmers Club.

The delegates, who represented virtually every section of North Georgia, attended group discussion meetings during the morning in which they considered four primary topics of importance to the contest: community organizations, building action program, evaluating progress and judging community clubs.

Following the discussion meetings the Farmers Club was host at a luncheon meeting which was presided over by Farmers Club President E. S. Papy.

Featured speaker at the luncheon was Walter Brown, director of the Georgia Agriculture Extension Service, who traced the progress of the community improvement contest since its beginning here seven years ago.

Brown pointed out that the contest has grown from 69 communities in 16 counties to 120 communities in 39 counties.

Brown commended Papy and the Atlanta Farmers Club for their "worthwhile contribution to rural community betterment."

At the close of the meeting it was announced that this year's district judging of the communities will be held during the week of Nov. 2 and that the final judging will be done during the week of Nov. 16. The annual awards banquet at which the winners will be announced will be held in Atlanta on Dec. 11.

Communities receiving certificates of progress here today and the counties in which the communities are located were as follows:

Paulding County, Burnt Hickory and Union communities; Lumpkin County, Yahoola community; Butts, Towaliga and West Butts; Fulton, Far Best community; Lamar, Johnstonville-Coggins and Redbone; Polk, Antioch, Fish Creek, Live Oak and Pine Bower.

Rabun County, Warwoman community; White, Seal Creek; Habersham, Gailey Line, View and Liberty communities.

ALBANY, Sept. 11—More than 400 union members stayed off the job Friday at the 70 million dollar Marine Supply Depot under construction here, union officials said.

Contractors, however, reported that "full scale" work continued yesterday with "less than 20" people on strike.

The AFL union claimed that 400 of the original 527 strikers who walked out Aug. 3 in a wage dispute, still are on strike here.

Laborers have been asking an increase of 15 cents per hour. They claim they have not had a wage increase since 1949.

East Lake Fete Hails Career of McCurdy

By BERT SPENCER

The tributes were from the heart, and Walter McCurdy's face was uneasy with emotion as he listened to them.

The jurists, attorneys and government officials, almost 50 of them, had gathered at East Lake Country Club Friday night in honor of the man who had served more than 26 years in the City Court of Decatur.

McCurdy, a 48-year-old Decatur attorney, who resigned Sept. 1 after serving six years as solicitor of the court, became an investigator in the prosecutor's office soon after he was admitted to the bar and was made assistant solicitor in 1927. He has entered private practice.

GLOWING TRIBUTE

D. P. Phillips, present judge of the court who was solicitor with McCurdy as his assistant, paid tribute "to this boy I love."

"We all respect him as a man, as a lawyer and as a Christian gentleman," Phillips said.

DeKalb Superior Court Judge Frank Guess, who was judge of the City Court when McCurdy began his career there, told what he believed McCurdy "has been above what other men are."

"He has learned to love his fellowman. He has room in his heart for every man, high or low."

"One could not find anywhere a more conscientious servant of the state," said Judge Clarence Vaughn of the Superior Court.

McCurdy arose and praised his former office staff and the court officials and, with the sincerity of tone so familiar in the DeKalb court, said he would "carry these associations with me as long as I live."

Clarence Peeler, assistant solicitor of the Superior Court, told McCurdy the Decatur Bar Association, sponsors of the dinner, had ordered a brief case for the retiring official.

John Wesley Weekes, Decatur attorney, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced a number of the men gathered to honor McCurdy.

ALL KNEW RECORD

Judge Guess and Attorneys Scott Candler Jr. and Tom Davis had planned the banquet. The attorneys could have pointed to his work in making the abandonment of minor children a continuous offense. They could have referred to his cracking of a highway racing ring following a "hot rod" death. They could have told of his work in crushing lottery rackets in DeKalb.

But tributes there were to the man McCurdy, for all knew his record as solicitor.

Hillbilly Singer Young Concert Hit

Hillbilly singer Faron Young and other variety show soloists stole the show Friday as approximately 10,000 persons jammed Chastain Memorial Park for the "million-dollar" Third Army concert.

Teen-age squeals greeted Young's renditions of such hillbilly favorites as "Jambalaya," "I Can't Wait" and "Going Steady." Other crowd pleasers on the variety show were recording star Don Meehan and singer and dancer Bill Gaddy.

The Third Army band, under the direction of CWO Ralph C. Church, highlighted its evening portion of the show with Tchaikovsky's "1812" which was accompanied by 150-mm. Howitzer fire, rockets and simulated lighting from two welders.

Presentation by the 140-member band included sentimental favorites, Southern airs and rousing marching tunes and featured an excellent trumpet solo of Steiger's "Carnival of Venice" by Pvt. Lynn Berman.

Ga. Farmer's BuyingPower Fades: Linder

The Georgia farmer's buying power is getting lower and lower, Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder said Friday.

Speaking to the Northside Kiwanis Club, Linder said there are few people left on the farm, and their per capita income is low.

An integrated policy in Washington between the State and Agriculture departments could help remedy this situation, the commissioner asserted.

"Farmers vote to control the crop acreage in order to hold the price up," Linder said. "Then the State department makes a reciprocal trade agreement which brings into this country more of the crop than the American farmer reduced. We wind up with a low price, a surplus crop, and farmers moving to town."

Enrollment At Schools Tops 80,000

By HERMAN HANCOCK

City school enrollment Friday topped 80,000, a figure 3,288 larger than for the corresponding day last year. Miss Ira Jarrell, school superintendent, renewed her prediction of 95,000 before the end of the school year.

Miss Jarrell said the opening of the 1953-54 school term was the smoothest in history despite all-time enrollment records.

"We anticipated most of our problems and were better prepared to deal with new situations when they arose," she added. "We are really in the new school term which is expected to be the most productive ever."

Hartsfield To Speak

Mayor Hartsfield will be principal speaker at the annual banquet marking the close of the Georgia Municipal Association convention at Brunswick. Zach Arnold, association secretary, released the convention program Friday. The meeting will be Oct. 7-9. Hartsfield, who is president of the American Municipal Association, will speak Oct. 9.

Detectives Raid Lottery Center, Arrest 2 as 8 Others Get Away

Detectives Friday swooped down on a lottery headquarters on Scott St., N. W., and arrested two persons, but lost a footrace with eight others who were there for the daily checkup.

Capt. W. L. Duncan and Detective Jack Cain identified the two under arrest as Herbert Turner, 25, of 553 Magnolia St., N. W., and Mary Grant, alias "Big Mary," of 3 Scott St., N. W., both Negroes.

The company owner lost his hat when he dived through a window and escaped through the back yard, Duncan said. He added, however, he and Cain recognized the owner and several others.

Duncan said he and Cain went to the address upon receiving information that they could find a lottery operation there and when they walked in they found 10 persons at work.

Detectives said the 10, Negroes, were seated around a table working with three adding machines and a typewriter with the day's receipts, approximately $2,000, strewn about the room.

The detectives said they confiscated the money and a large metal strongbox.

Druid Hills Schedules Dedication

By DOTTY LUNDY

Druid Hills students are pulling for the Red Devils to singe Tucker Tigers as crisp as the fish they will devour before the game next Friday. The fish fry, sponsored by the Druid Hills Lions Club, is part of festivities planned for the dedication of the new elementary school.

The spacious classrooms, providing a handsome addition to DeKalb County schools, will be formally dedicated at 5:30 p. m. by Jim Cherry, superintendent of the system.

Fish for all will be served at 6:30, after which parents are invited to inspect the new building. An informal dance will be held after the game in the teen center for players and students from both schools.

HENRY GRADY

Senior members of Henry Grady student council will play host at a record dance at the gym after the Grady-Marist tilt Saturday night. Council members are Martha Grizzard, Sid Reese, Mike Trotter, Reva Hirsch and Kemp Haynes. The Gray Knight football squad and cheerleaders will be honor guests at the informal dance.

Saturday night's class will highlight the fall football schedule for another reason. At half time the Grady PTA will present the band with a band banner. Band and orchestra parents will donte two new bass drums with pearl sides, adding a brilliant flash of red and gray to the drum section.

SYLVAN HILLS

Y-Teens at Sylvan Hills will entertain new eighth-grade girls at tea Sunday at the home of Harriet Cantrell, club president. Other officers are Carolyn Johnston, vice-president; Yvonne Mitchem, secretary, and Barbara Hawkins, treasurer.

TO A SMALL VIOLINIST

If I could carry, in my heart,
A picture of your little face,
To be within my eyes again
As Father Time moves on apace,
I'd choose the pose I love the best:
Your innocent, blue eyes aglow,
The golden sunlight on your hair,
Your little hands upon the bow.
And through the years the squeaky strain
Of "Minuet in G" will bring
The picture of you standing there
With reverent bow to muted string.

MARY ELLEN STELLING

Party to Honor John L. Cokers

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Coker Sr. will hold open house Sunday afternoon at their home at 4159 North Stratford Road, honoring Mr. and Mrs. John L. Coker Jr. and their small son, John Louis III of Philadelphia. The calling hours are from 3 to 6 o'clock.

John Louis Coker III was christened Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service at the Peachtree Road Methodist Church, with the pastor, Dr. Claud Haynes officiating. He wore the christening robe worn by his maternal grandfather, D. D. McGuire of Wooster, Ohio. The baby's mother is the former Harriot Ann McGuire of Wooster, an Agnes Scott graduate.

Mr. Coker Jr., an Emory graduate, is a senior at the University of Pennsylvania Dental College in Philadelphia.

Mary Haworth

Divorced From First Wife, Man Thinks of Remarrying

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: During the war I married Ruth, whom I had known a year. I was truly in love with her and happier than I had dreamed possible. In two weeks I was sent overseas, and when I returned three years later I found Ruth changed, critical of me in every way.

I was determined to make our marriage work, but by the time our child was born Ruth no longer loved me.

I took a job hundreds of miles away, where I was lonely and miserable. But I loved my work and within a year had several promotions and was making a comfortable living. Ruth and I kept in touch about the baby's progress, and this led to a reconciliation. When they joined me I was joyful, but soon Ruth began to find fault and missed her mother terribly.

When Ruth suggested making a visit back home I readily agreed. During the visit she became depressed, and psychiatric care was prescribed by her doctors. She improved after some treatment, but didn't want to return to me. The situation terminated in divorce three years ago.

Two years ago I met Mary, a wonderful all-around companion, everything that Ruth isn't. She loves me very much; I know she spoils me. She, too, is divorced and would like to remarry but, due to my unhappy experience I am hesitant.

C. C.

Now there is Mary who, in two years' association, has proved herself a wonderful all-around companion, who offers great devotion. She makes you happy, but you shrink from marrying her. Why? Your reasons aren't overpowering, to my way of thinking.

The quality of companionship you've had with Mary these two years is probably a foretaste of how marriage to her would be. If you find the experience beneficent, why not secure it as a permanent blessing? If it is merely a minor consolation, something you can live without, better end it, in fairness to her. M. H.

DEAR C. C.: It seems to me that your approach to marrying is unrealistic. You say you were truly in love with Ruth when you married her but, considering the outcome, were you? It appears that you blindly idealized her character in the courting phase. I suggest that you were in love with your imaginary version of Ruth.

Mrs. Davison To Honor Compatriot Fersen

When Mrs. Hal Davison entertains at an informal supper this evening at her Habersham Rd. home, central figure will be her compatriot, Nicholas Fersen, whose first book will be published by Houghton Mifflin of Boston next spring.

Though he was born in Rome, Italy, Mr. Fersen's parents, like Mrs. Davison, were Russians who fled from their country during the revolution. After he met and married Miss Elizabeth Moon of Columbus, Ga., who was serving with the American Red Cross in Rome, they came to Atlanta to live. They have a 3-year-old son, Paul.

Based on historic fact and his experience in Italy during and after World War II, Mr. Fersen has named his novel "Tombolo" after its locale. Packed with action, it deals with the touchy and touching situations created by the arrival of the Negro GIs in Italy, a country which up to that time knew no racial problem.

"TOMBOLO" MANUSCRIPT IS FAMILY TREASURE
Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Fersen and Son, Paul

Mr. Fersen's publishers considered his first draft of the story too long and sensational, but they took an option and asked him to rewrite it. It is the exercise of this option that tonight's party will celebrate.

AMONG GUESTS arriving from a distance to attend the marriage this afternoon of Mrs. Amanda Noel Groom to Edward C. Smith are the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Noel, her sister, Miss Lacy Noel, and her brother, William B. Noel Jr., all of Murfreesboro, Tenn., who are guests of Mr. Smith's parents, Gen. and Mrs. Edward W. Smith, on Howell Mill Rd.

Other out-of-town guests here for the wedding are Mr. Smith's grandmother, Mrs. J. Madden Smith of Memphis; his aunt, Mrs. Charles Clark of Clarksdale, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Smith and Mrs. R. B. Macon of Birmingham.

A VIRGINIA VISITOR receiving much social attention here is Mrs. Gilbert F. Butler of Roanoke, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. E. de Golian, on Howell Mill Rd.

MRS. DONALD McCLAIN has returned from Greenfield, Ohio, where she was the guest for a week of her mother, Mrs. E. G. Miller.

MRS. BROOK REEVE has returned from a visit to relatives in Savannah.

RETURNING SATURDAY from Nassau, where they spent the past 10 days, are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gunn Jr. and their children, Ellen, Mary and Linwood.

MISS ELIZABETH COLVIN has returned from Nashville, Tenn., where she was an attendant in the Wilkerson-Yount wedding.

MISS LOUISE HILL has returned to her home in Decatur after spending the summer in England as part of the Program of International Living.

MISS DOROTHY B. YOSSAM of Worcester, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert Mannis, and Mr. Mannis at 1058 Rosewood Dr., N. E.

Miss Nisbet Is Wed to Mr. Lovelace

Thomas A. Lovelace and his bride, the former Miss Jan Nisbet, are en route to Canada for their honeymoon, following their marriage, which took place Friday evening at the Kirkwood Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. P. J. Garrison Jr. officiating.

After the wedding the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nisbet, entertained at a reception at their home on Howard St.

Miss Ann Whitehead was her cousin's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Harriette Drew, Miss Ann Lenhardt, Miss Suzanne McGregor and Mrs. M. D. Wallace. Junior bridesmaids included Maywood Nisbet and Nancy Leach.

Mr. Nisbet gave his daughter in marriage, and Frederick Lovelace was best man for his brother.

Other gentlemen in the wedding were Waldo Hitt, Robert L. Leach, Daniel Watters and Maj. Paul White of Fort Bragg, N. C., who served as groomsmen, Thomas H. Brodnax, James W. Groover, C. D. Dusthimer and Samuel Swann, who ushered.

Upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace will occupy an apartment at the Nisbet home.

DAILY GUIDE — There has probably been a great deal of talk going on this week and maybe you have done your share. It would be just as well to wait for your better judgment to prompt you before saying much today. Some doubt may arise as to what has been said, written or discussed during this week. Better null things over, today. There could be a slight reaction from a fairly stimulating week. It looks as if it might be a good week end to just let things ride for the time being. Those who should be especially careful of what they say or rite are born around Sept. 18, June 16, March 16 or Dec. 17. Travel also for these people may not be especially enjoyable. Those born from Aug. 23 through Sept. 1 can expect an active week ahead. All should not count too heavily on week-end pleasures.

Labor Day Brings Dip In Buying

By ALEX JOINER

Loss of a shopping day Labor Day and continued hot weather in many places caused an overall trend to less consumer spending in the week ended Wednesday, Dun & Bradstreet reported Friday.

The agency said retail dollar volume varied from unchanged to 4 per cent below a year ago. Regional estimates varied from comparable 1952 levels by the following percentages: South and Northwest, unchanged to down four; New England, down two to six; East, down three to seven; and Pacific Coast, up two to six.

Reactions were slow to fall apparel, but buying of childen's clothing picked up moderately. The holiday caused a boost in sales for filling stations and automobile accessory dealers. Home furnishings also picked up.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED

The Civil Aeronautics Board Friday said it has dismissed complaints of Delta-C&S Air Lines and National Airlines against a proposal by Eastern Air Lines to use Super Constellation airplanes as daytime tourist coaches. Eastern proposes to start reduced-fare operations with the 88-passenger planes after acquiring newer models for the first-class service this fall.

NEW FACILITIES

National Aniline Division, Allied Chemical & Dye Corp., now is occupying new sales-service facilities at 1216 Spring St., N. W., it was announced Friday. John Boykin, former resident representative now branch manager, said the new quarters were needed to accelerate technical and sales services to Southeastern customers.

TRADING TO RESUME

Trading in common stock of Flour Mills of America, Inc., suspended Aug. 11 by the Securities and Exchange Commission, will be resumed Monday, it was announced Friday.

TRUCK AT CRAZY ANGLE—WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—No, this truck isn't turning a corner at high speed. It's being turned right side up after overturning here when its load of electrical control panels shifted. The driver, C. R. Howard of Lawrenceville, Ga., was on his way home from New York.

Millionth Food Parcel Is Presented E. Germans; Reds Step Up Blocking

BERLIN, Sept. 11—(UP)—The United States today handed out the millionth free food parcel in the second round of the program to feed hungry East Germans.

Some 60,000 entered West Berline to pick up the "Eisenhower packages" during the day. The number distributed since the new program began Aug. 27 rose to about 1,015,000. Some 4,860,000 have been distributed since the over-all program began in July.

Communist police stepped up their campaign to block the food program and halt the smuggling of food from the Soviet Zone to West Berlin to be sold for Western currency.

Police said the Communists arrested a 17-year-old East Berliner at the border for possessing a U. S. food package.

WOMAN RED FIRED

The Soviet Zone ADN news agency, meanwhile, reported that a top East German woman Communist had been fired as the result of the stand she took during the June 17 uprisings. The news agency said Elli Schmidt, chairman of the East Zone "women's federation," was relieved of her post because she "... failed to look after the interests of the people and the women during the Fascist provocations. . . ."

At two points on the border, Communist police opened fire in what was believed to be attempts to apprehend food seekers evading Communist controls.

BORDER POLICE SHOOT

Witnesses told police a woman was wounded on the border of the British and Soviet sections. She was arrested with a man companion.

At the American-Soviet sector border police opened fire on a man who disobeyed a Communist order to halt, West Berlin authorities reported.

The Communists reinforced border controls to catch persons smuggling food to the West. Red press reports said "a number" of persons were arrested at railway stations in Potsdam and Babelsburg for smuggling eggs, fruit, vegetables, fowl and fish.

The Communist secret police were reported to have opened a campaign to liquidate anti-Communist resistance and purge the Red ranks of unreliable elements.

Soviet Dues Boost, U. S. Slash Asked

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 11—(INS—The UN's dues-collecting committee recommended today, for the fourth straight year, an increase in Russia's contributions and proposed a cut in U. S. payments to a flat one-third of total assessments.

The 10-member committee on contributions urged in its annual report to the Assembly that Russia's dues scale for 1954 be raised by 15 per cent to 14.15 per cent of total contributions received.

HEAVIEST CONTRIBUTOR

The committee recommended that the U. S. assessments be lowered from its present figure of 35.12 to a flat one-third of total dues collected. The proposal still leaves the United States as the heaviest contributor to UN, with Russia and Britain far behind in second and third place respectively.

Fractional dues increases were recommended for other members of the Soviet bloc except Czechoslovakia.

The American contribution to UN for 1953 was $15,523,000 and Russia's $5,427,760. Under the new proposed rates, the United States would pay a flat one-third of the total annual UN budget of approximately $45,000,000—$15,000,000. Russia would pay upward of $6,000,000. The assembly is expected to approve the new rates at its forthcoming eighth session starting Tuesday.

SOVIET PROTESTS

G. F. Saskin, Soviet member of the committee, protested against the group's decision to raise Russia's dues and lower those of the United States. He complained that this has happened steadily for the past four years.

Lowering of the U. S. dues rate was in accord with U. S. official views that America should not pay more than one-third of total expenses for operating the UN.

The committee proposed minor decreases in the contributions of Britain, South Africa, Argentina, India, Iran, Pakistan and Egypt.

Fractional increases also were proposed for Colombia, El Salvador, Greece, Mexico, Guatemala, Philippines and Venezuela in addition to the Soviet bloc.

It's Blondes, 3 to 1, In Swim Suit Judging

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11—(UP)—Three blondes and a brunette tonight led the field of nervous beauties into the last round of the preliminary judging to pick Miss America of 1954.

Miss Pennsylvania, Miss Wyoming and Miss South Dakota were the blondes preferred in the bathing suit and talent judging of the first two nights of the contest in convention hall here. Anne Lee Ceglis of Virginia, a recovered polio victim, is the only brunette to figure in the preliminary points competition.

The 52 beauties competed again tonight in three divisions—swim suits, floor-length gowns and talent. It was their last chance to qualify for tomorrow's finals, when the new Miss America will win her crown and about $50,000 in prizes.

No sign of a favorite had emerged so far, in contrast to previous years. Last night Elaine Holkenbrink, Wyoming's 19-year-old entry, and Dolores Jerde, Miss South Dakota, joined Miss Virginia and Evelyn Margaret Ay, Miss Pennsylvania, among the point leaders.

Miss Wymoning, a 36-24-36 ash blonde in a white nylon swim suit, won roars of applause and the important points in her division. Miss Jerde won the night's talent judging with her piano performance of Dohanyi's "Rhapsody in C Minor."

Miss Pennsylvania won the first night's swim suit judging, Miss Virginia, who injured an ankle in the opening night, still managed to win preliminary honors in talent with her performance of an operatic aria.

Other favorites undoubtedly emerged on the judges' scoreboards in the evening gown division but, according to tradition, preliminary winners in that field were not announced.

Pedestrian Felled by Car Walks Away

A pedestrian knocked down by a car Friday at Fairlie and Luckie Sts., N. W., got up, dusted off his clothes and walked away, police said. Two others were less fortunate.

The Fairlie and Luckie St. incident was reported by Henry W. Moon, 57, of 730 Ormond St., S. E., a driver for the Yellow Cab Co. Moon told Ptl. F. L. Russell and A. H. Campbell he was making a right turn from Luckie into Fairlie at 12:05 p. m. Patrolmen said no charges were made.

Raymond Lyons, 7, of 53 Love St., S. W., was treated at Grady Hospital for abrasions and a possible skull fracture following an auto-bicycle collision on Crew St. near Bass St., S. W., at 2:41 p. m., police said. Diane Bowman, 5, of 230 Alexander St., N. W., received cuts and bruises when struck by a car on Alexander St. near Venable St., N. W.

Telephone Employee Wins $1,000 for Idea

George W. Crawford, Southern Bell Telephone Co. central office foreman, was presented a $1,000 award Friday for employee suggestions he recently made.

The award, made at a luncheon at the Atlanta Athletic Club, was the first "grand" one to be made under the company's suggestion plan since it was started 10 years ago. Crawford's suggestions concerned technical modifications which would greatly improve efficiency of Main and Walnut central office equipment.

TV Hails Aid for Handicapped

The first in a 13-week series of public service television programs entitled "Over Life's Hurdles," will be broadcast over WAGA-TV at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, head of the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare will appear on the show to commend and salute the West End Kiwanis Club for its sponsorship of this "help the handicapped" series during within the state.

Ed Johnston, president of the Kiwanis group, said his organization is presenting the programs in conjunction with public and volunteer agencies aiding physically and mentally diseabled persons.

British officials report that in 1939 they could pay for a ton of copper by exporting 16 sewing machines, but in 1952 it was necessary to export 21.

Adenauer's Coalition Try Foiled

BON, Germany, Sept. 11 (UP)—The West German Free Democrats tonight turned down Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's first bid to get coalition government.

The 48 new Free Democrat deputies, in a long meeting here, decided that Adenauer had not offered them a big enough share of the government.

A communique said they had voted to delay their final decision until there have been further clarifying talks with the possible coalition partners.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats (CDU), who won 244 out of 487 seats in the Sept. 6 election, have suggested that the old coalition with the Free Democrats (FDP) and German party (DP) be revived to rule for the next four years.

But the Free Democrats obtained only 48 seats compared with their 52 seats in the last Bundestag (lower house).

Free democrat sources said that Adenauer had offered their party leader, Franz Bluecher, his old post as vice-chancellor and an undersecretaryship, possibly in the future defense ministry.

Free Democrat deputies feel they should have three ministries, as they had in the previous government.

The majority of the Free Democrat deputies were reported to have declared that the Christian Democrats should be left to form a government of their own if a better offer were not made.

The third potential coalition member, the German party, also paved the way for some hard bargaining. They iudearpss estetatss-new government should be "less of a percentage sharing than a guarantee of continuation of the former (government) policy."

They obtained 15 seats compared with their previous 28.

HARVARD REUNION IN ATLANTA

4 Foreign Observers Revise Some of Ideas About South

Four foreign observers touring the United States for the first time—a German, a Japanese, a Norwegian and a Frenchman—declared here Friday that they are "revising some of their preconceived ideas abouth the South."

Three of the visitors had a reunion here with William Gordon, managing editor of The Atlanta Daily World, who had attended with them the Harvard University International Seminar July 6-Aug. 26.

Gordon, a 1952 Neiman fellow, was one of three Americans chosen to participate in the third international seminar this summer.

ARRIVAL COINCIDENCE

"I talked so much about the South that seminar delegates from Europe and other places wanted to see Atlanta in the time they had left in the United States," Gordon explained.

"By a coincidence, three of the persons who attended the Harvard seminar with me arrived in Atlanta at the same time."

The visitors, Joseph Çhenu, tutor of philosophy in the Stanislau College, Paris; Miss Tsuya Nakano, government worker from Tokyo, Japan, and Eskild Jensen of Oslo, Norway, a member of the economic policy-making body of the Norwegian government, were joined by Wolfgang Rieger of Bonn, Germany, who is currently studying at Harvard on a comwealth fund fellowship.

OPTIMISTIC ON PEACE

Chenu, who with the other visitors held a conference with Ralph McGill, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, declared he had found "much less racial prejudice and fewer racial and economic problems" than he had expected in the South.

Jensen laughed. "I knew a great deal more about the United States before I came to this country than I do now; I am revising my opinions, and my ideas are still in a fluid state!"

Miss Nakano reported she was impressed by the "freedom of women in this country, by the esteem in which women are held, and by the lack of unemployment."

Optimism for world peace chances were generally expressed by the visitors. Jensen declared he felt his own country, not too far from Russia, "has less feeling of fear about a third world war than I have noticed here."

OCILLA PW RETURNS—Greeted at the Atlanta Municipal Airport on his return from a Red Korean prisoner-of-war camp, Cpl. Ben H. Evans of Ocilla is shown happily in the arms of his mother.

Mother Slain In Debut as Lion Tamer

BREDASDORP, South Africa, Sept. 11—(UP)—Mrs. Elsabe Bronkhorst, 25, whose lifelong ambition was to be a lion tamer, was clawed to death by two lions when she undertook her first lesson last night.

The mother of a 17-months-old child entered a cage containing four lions at a circus here. With her was a male trainer.

One of the beasts rushed at her and knocked her down. A second one pounced on her.

The trainer fired his pistol, and the lions retreated. But Mrs. Bronkhorst died before circus attendants could take her out of the cage.

Three Fires Charged to Gordon GI

AUGUSTA, Sept. 11—(AP)—Three fires at Camp Gordon were solved today with the arrest and reported confession of a young soldier who said he set the blazes out of revenge for having been imprisoned, officials said.

Pvt. Jack L. Polliard of Port Haywood, Va., said in a signed confession that he had set fires in two chapels and a classroom on the nights of Sept. 5, officials said. Polliard said the fires were set out of revenge for a previous conviction by a military court which sentenced him to two and a half years for larceny of government property and being AWOL, officials added.

The soldier claimed he was remorseful for burning two houses of worship.

Gordon officials said Polliard's confession was confirmed by lie detector tests and personal reactment of the crimes.

Damage was fixed at $65,600.
